

Rural Oneida Youth Full Schedule Killed, 13 Teenagers For Congress Injured in Collision On Major Bills

10 Die During Holiday in State;
370 in Nation

A rural Oneida youth was killed about 9 o'clock Sunday night in a 2-car crash south of Angelica in Shawano county that injured 13 other teenagers. His death raised the state's Memorial weekend traffic toll to 10, two less than the toll on state roads last Memorial weekend.

Joseph LaCount, 19, route 1, Oneida, was a passenger in a car driven by Richard Diederich, 16, route 7, Green Bay, which collided with a car driven by Richard Walschinski, 18, route 2, Pulaski, at County Trunk C and a town road two miles south of Angelica, according to Shawano County Traffic Patrol Chief Edward Bahr.

4 Ambulances, 7 Doctors
The Diederich car, traveling west on the town road, was struck broadside by the Walschinski car in the intersection. Diederich and Janice Luedke, 13, route 5, Green Bay, another passenger in his car, were reported in critical condition at St. Vincent hospital, Green Bay.

The injured, all reported in serious condition, were taken to the hospital in four ambulances and treated by a team of seven doctors. One ambulance made two trips to the scene.

LaCount's death raised the state's 1958 accident toll to 288, compared with 302 on this date a year ago.

Injured in Crash
In the nation, the long weekend took 585 lives; 370 in traffic accidents, 127 by drowning and 88 in other accidents. The National Safety Council estimated the holiday toll would be 350 on the highways. In 1955 holiday traffic took 369 lives for an all-time record for a 3-day Memorial day weekend.

Others injured in the Shawano county collision were: James Diederich, 16, route 7, Green Bay; Darlene Luedke, 15, route 5, Green Bay; Marilyn Devroy, 16, route 4, Green Bay; and Harry Mooren, 15, route 1, Oneida, all in the

Brynes Sees No Tax Cut Action

Washington (R-Wis) said today a general tax cut is not in the cards at this time.

Unless there is a major change in the economic situation, Brynes said, congress likely will continue the present taxes on corporation and excise taxes and defer any action on general tax cut legislation.

He is a member of the house ways and means committee which has approved a 12-month extension of corporate income and excise taxes at their present rate.

The tax legislation is likely to come up in the house this week.

"This is pretty well in line with the thinking of President Eisenhower and I believe there will be little difficulty in getting house approval," Brynes said.

Reuss Wants Publicity on U. S. Pensions

Washington (R-Wis) Henry Reuss (D-Wis) said today he has introduced a bill to require the civil service commission to disclose the name of any person getting a pension under the civil service retirement act.

The commission presently does not release names of pensioners or the amount of their pensions without the consent of the recipient.

Reuss said, "My bill simply requires the commission to disclose, if requested, the pension benefits received by any person, whether a former congressman, a high official in a government department or anyone else."

"I believe that my bill is consistent with the right of the American people to know the disposition of the taxes they pay to the federal government. While part of the retirement fund is made up of employee contributions, every taxpayer in the United States has contributed to the larger part of the fund."

Reuss said the commission refuses to give the information on grounds of protecting the privacy of pension recipients, but he said his bill would not ask for such information as the pensioner's address or medical data or other personal information.

Report Finds No
Link of Trujillo
To Galindez Case

New York (R-Wis) A report financed by Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo, head of the Dominican Republic, finds no evidence linking the Caribbean dictatorship to the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez.

The report, prepared by Lawyer Morris Ernst, implied that Galindez, who vanished more than two years ago, might still be alive. Ernst suggested that the mystery might be related to Galindez's position with the Basque government-in-exile and the more than a million dollars he collected for it.

Galindez, a Spanish exile, was a Columbia university lecturer and a bitter critic of Trujillo.

Marquette Honors

Milwaukee (R-Wis) Dr. Ludwig Erhard, the economics minister and vice chancellor of West Germany, will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from Marquette university to the senate members.

Erhard arrived in the United States Sunday and spent the night at the West German consulate office in Chicago.

Five-Day Weeks Necessary to Meet Legislative Goals

Washington (R-Wis) The house today unanimously voted retroactive 10 per cent pay raises for a million classified federal employees at an estimated annual cost of $542 million.

It sent back to the senate by voice vote a bill giving civil service workers the same size pay hike recently voted for 530,000 postal employees. As in the case of the postal raises, the civil service workers' increases would be retroactive to last January.

Washington (R-Wis) Congress starts paying the piper this week for its slow pace during the first five months of this session.

If it's to meet the early August adjournment target set by its leaders, congress will have to shift into high gear as it returns from a long Memorial day weekend.

Leaders have mapped out a 5-day-a-week work schedule which rules out any extended recesses in June and July, except for the Fourth of July weekend.

This week the house faces a program that its own leaders concede may not be met. It calls for action on pay raises for federal employees, legislation to create a space agency, appropriations for the defense department, extension of the reciprocal trade program, and continuation of present corporate income and excise tax rates.

Reciprocal Trade Fight
Little trouble is likely over the $38 billion defense money bill and a bill to continue for another year corporate and excise tax rates due to drop July 1.

But it may take several days to dispose of legislation to extend the reciprocal trade agreements act for five years beyond June 30. Protectionist forces in the house are expected to fight to cut down the extension period and limit the added tariff-cutting powers the legislation would give the president.

The senate has acted on only one of the major bills on this week's house docket. That is the measure to raise the pay of federal employees.

The senate probably will spend most of this week debating the $3,712,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill already passed by the house.

Opposition Party
Makes Big Gains
At Belgian Polls

Brussels (R-Wis) Belgium's Catholic social Christians, the opposition party for the last four years, made big gains in yesterday's parliamentary elections but not enough to form a majority government.

Of the 106 senate seats up for direct balloting, the social Christians took 54, a gain of 5. Sixty-nine other senators will be elected next week by the nation's provincial councils and by the senators themselves.

Figures released by the interior ministry showed the social Christians took 104 of the 212 seats in the house.

Tank Car Blast Routs 1,000 From Homes

Two of Railroad Crew Killed and Another
Seriously Hurt; Score Reported Injured

Mount Pulaski, Ill. (R-Wis) The shattering explosion of a railroad tank car spread devastation through this town of 1,500 persons yesterday, leaving some 1,000 temporarily homeless.

Two railroad crewmen were killed and one was injured seriously in the violent blast. More than a score of persons were injured by flying glass and debris. None was reported in serious condition.

Damage was estimated by town and civil defense officials at $1 million. Officials said a survey indicated two-thirds of the town's some 400 homes were damaged and not immediately habitable.

State police ordered the town evacuated after the tank car filled with a petroleum product exploded and flames threatened two other tank cars filled with liquid chemicals. The cause of the blast was not immediately determined.

Troops in Town
The tank car was one of 43 cars on an Illinois Central railroad freight train which was switching in the yards. After the fire was put out, some 500 residents whose homes were not too seriously damaged were permitted to remain in town.

National guardsmen were ordered into the town, in central Illinois about 30 miles northeast of Springfield, to aid in the cleanup and to prevent looting.

Several nearby communities, some 20 miles away, were reported shaken by the blast and residents in Springfield said they heard the explosion.

The explosion tore a crater about 35 feet across and 30 feet deep where the tank car had been. Chunks of steel, some weighing several tons, were hurled a quarter of a mile.

The shock of the wave shattered windows and tore off doors, porches and sidings of homes and other buildings throughout the town.

Hundreds of residents, fearing a second blast, drove to Lincoln 10 miles away. Food and shelter were provided at Central high school and a 200-bed emergency civil defense hospital unit. Other evacuees went to farms outside Mount Pulaski or to other nearby communities.

"It looks like a war-ravaged city, a ghost town," residents said.

Ike and Dulles In Session on Foreign Policy

Consider French
Situation and Nuclear Test Talks

Washington (R-Wis) President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles scheduled a major foreign policy conference today to discuss relations with the De Gaulle government in earlier.

The vote was almost identical with the vote of 329 to 224 by which the assembly invested the De Gaulle government in earlier.

A White House statement last night calling for "intimate and friendly relations" with France under the premiership of Gen. Charles de Gaulle set the tone of the policy which the Eisenhower administration hopes to develop.

But officials said privately that everything depends now on how far De Gaulle is willing to go in allied cooperation.

Khrushchev Letter
On the nuclear test issue the president received a letter from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Saturday agreeing to open talks among scientific experts of the United States, Russia and other countries later this month.

Khrushchev raised several points, concerning place and membership, which required a presidential response.

The mid-afternoon meeting between Eisenhower and Dulles opens a busy 10 days in foreign policy work for the administration.

In midweek West German President Theodor Heuss is due here for a visit accompanied by Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

Leads Attack on Foreign Aid Plan

Washington (R-Wis) Sen. E. Talmadge (D-Ga) led off the opposition to President Eisenhower's $3,712,000,000 foreign aid program today with the argument that it is "steeped in the threat of national bankruptcy."

He called it "an undefined and never-ending program which seeks to achieve the impossible and Utopian end of making the world over in our own image."

Most of the senate session clips of the Atlantic pact (NA) was set aside for speeches for and against the program of aid abroad. An informal agreement barred any votes before Wednesday.

Operate Without Contracts

UAW Told Not to Strike or Provoke Incidents at Plants

Detroit (R-Wis) Failure to reach agreement on new contracts with Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. by midnight Sunday left UAW members without pacts at all big three plants today for the first time in more than 17 years.

Deadlocked bargaining talks with the union were broken off Sunday midnight at Ford and Chrysler just as they were three nights ago at General Motors. The companies and the union blamed each other for the unprecedented situation in automotive labor relations.

Extensions Refused
One-half million UAW members employed by the big three are under stern orders from their chief, Walter P. Reuther, not to strike or provoke any incidents that could give the companies an excuse to shut down their plants.

LeGros is survived by his widow Dorothy and a son Robert, a member of Green Bay West High school's track team.

Reuther failed in last hour bargain with us the way they union membership is no longer a condition for employment. It has 750,000 unsold 1958 model cars.

Stop Collecting Dues
But in setting their own terms for keeping plants in operation, the companies cut off collecting dues from UAW members and turning the money over to the union. Last year they deducted an estimated $18 million in dues for the union. Now the union will have to collect its own dues.

The companies also dropped the union shop. This means that union membership is no longer a condition for employment. It has 750,000 unsold 1958 model cars.

Sends Measure to Senate; General Ready to Go to Algiers to End Unrest

Paris (R-Wis) The French national assembly today voted 322 to 232 to grant Gen. Charles de Gaulle sweeping powers to govern by decree for six months.

The measure was sent immediately to the French senate where De Gaulle supporters hope to ram it through today and clear the way for the new premier's trip to Algeria to restore government authority over the rebellious territory.

The vote was almost identical with the vote of 329 to 224 by which the assembly invested the De Gaulle government in earlier.

In the final version of the measure, De Gaulle's supporters accepted amendments restricting the general's power to govern by decree in such fields as civil liberties, labor legislation and social security. However, the bill incorporated almost everything the general asked to enable him to govern for six months while the assembly takes a paid vacation.

The general maintained constant contact with the assembly through cabinet members reporting to his downtown hotel headquarters. He was reported perturbed by committee bickering. But the general's forces thus far had the votes to beat down amendments which would hamstring his program.

The emerging legislation varies only slightly from the full powers the assembly implied it would grant when it voted the general's investiture yesterday.

Meanwhile, De Gaulle's contacts with the Algerian insurgents took on something of a cloak and dagger aspect. Gen. Raoul Salan, French commander in Algeria, announced that he had received a telephone call from De Gaulle saying the general would arrive there Wednesday. De Gaulle's office confirmed the phone call, but only after several hours.

Second Victory
The assembly vote on powers for De Gaulle was the second parliamentary victory for him in this busy legislative day. Earlier the deputies voted 337-199 to continue the government's special emergency powers in Algeria. These powers have been passed on from government to government the past three years.

The assembly and the senate outlined for themselves a groundbreaking schedule so that De Gaulle can land in Algeria tomorrow or Wednesday to cope with his most immediate problem—the insurgent army leaders and French colonists whose defiance of Premier Pierre Pflimlin's government brought the World War II hero out of the political wilderness.

The assembly went back into session this morning after 24 of the most hectic hours in its long history.

Wins 329 to 224
The assembly voted the tall, grim-faced wartime resistance leader into office by a 329-224 vote last night after he insisted he be given a free hand to run France for the next six months.

The general made his sweeping demands in a cold, calm 6-minute speech to the hushed chamber. He needed the pushers, he said, to avert a "break-up and perhaps civil war" in France.

De Gaulle said he was demanding three major things of the assembly: Emergency powers to rule by decree for six months to clear up the current crisis. Parliament would take a vacation in the interim.

Authority to revise the constitution to give a stronger executive, based on the American system, rather than the parade of weak regimes which have been at the mercy of the assembly.

People Would Vote
Constitutional reform to reorganize the relation between France and her overseas territories.

Both constitutional reforms would be submitted directly to the people for approval, rather than to the assembly first. De Gaulle did not spell out the constitutional changes he plans, saying this would be done in a bill to be submitted soon.

The assembly committee appointed by the assembly.

Agree on Cause of Recession in U.S.

Business, Industry Leaders Claim Breakdown of Supply, Demand Brought Slump; Believe End Near

Washington —P— A group of the nation's top industrialists and business leaders agreed today that the chief cause of the recession was a breakdown of the law of supply and demand. But they disagreed on ways to bring the two back into balance and on the role the government should play in revitalizing the economy.

Some of them suggested tax cuts. Several advocated stepped-up government expenditures for public works and other projects. Others called for curbs on labor union powers. A task also was delegated to business itself—to give the consumer more attractive products at lower prices.

Response to Questions
The views were given in response to a questionnaire sent out Feb. 17 by the senate finance committee, which last year began a study of the country's financial condition.

The replies showed that most of the 14 executives believed the nation had just about reached the bottom of the slump.

Two company presidents—Ralph Cordiner of General Electric and F. W. Ecker of Metropolitan Life Insurance—said the government should play its major function in providing financial help to the unemployed and in encouraging sound monetary policies. While taxes may be high, they doubted the wisdom of cutting them now.

However, Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, said an across-the-board tax cut would be the simplest and most effective move for the government to make. He said the psychological impact would go a long way toward restoring confidence in the economy.

Tax Cutting
Several others advocated tax cutting only as a last resort. Presidents J. W. Keener of the B. F. Goodrich company, F. E. Jerome of the Seattle First National bank and Porter M. Jarvis of Swift and company called for a sit-tight policy on the part of the government, at least for the time being.

The possibility of increased government spending was cited as a stopgap measure by Curtice; S. C. Beise, San Francisco banker, Eugene Holman, chairman of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and Edmund Fitzgerald, president of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, Milwaukee, Wis.

Most of the 14 took the view that deficit financing by the government had not contributed greatly to the inflationary spiral. However, they said surpluses should be accumulated when the economy is expanding so that more money is available for government help in slump periods.

National Debt
Ecker called for inserting some provision in the federal budget for reducing the national debt in times of prosperity.

Cordiner and Fitzgerald said greater price stability could be achieved by the government's issuance of long rather than short term securities. The short term borrowings, it was argued, forces the federal reserve bank to pursue a less restrictive monetary policy.

Henry Kaiser, the west coast industrialist, tabbed deflation worse than inflation. He said it was vital that government regulation of credit not be carried to the point of artificially creating deflation and depression.

George Gund, president of the Cleveland Trust company, defended the federal reserve system. Through a long period of trial, he said, it has developed into a satisfactory mechanism of credit regulation.

D. B. Jenks, president of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad, said he saw no end to inflation so long as wages increase without a corresponding rise in the productivity rate.

Ike Praised as Modern Colossus

Emmitsburg, Md., —P— President Eisenhower was praised today as a modern Colossus who has helped bind the world's free nations in strong alliance.

The praise is set forth in a citation accompanying an honorary doctor of laws degree being awarded to the president by Mount St. Mary's college.

Eisenhower and his wife arranged to drive to the mountainside school here from his farm home at nearby Gettysburg, Pa., where he spent the Memorial day weekend.

The president is coming in the role of neighbor to the school the second oldest Catholic college in the United States and he speaks informally at the institution's 150th commencement exercises, immediately after receiving the honorary degree.

Actor's Son Injured In Fall From Balcony

Hollywood —P— Edward G. Robinson Jr. fell 35 feet from a balcony while fishing at his Malibu beach home last night, sheriff's deputies reported.

The 25-year-old of the movie star was taken to Cedars of Lebanon hospital. Dr. Robert Weir said he had numerous cuts and possible fractures.

At a preliminary stop at Malibu emergency hospital doctors spent nearly 40 minutes removing sand from his eyes.

Deputies said Robinson fell to the surf while casting.

Aid for Schools Sales Tax Issues In Iowa Primary

Governorship, 8 Congressional Seats on Ballot

Des Moines —P— Tax methods and school aid were major issues as Iowans voted in a primary election today.

Republicans and Democrats were selecting their choices to run next fall for governor, eight congressional seats and other state offices.

Most of the candidates predicted a tight vote of possibly 200,000. But Sec. of State Melvin D. Synhorst estimated 310,000 and Democratic state chairman Jake More forecast heavy balloting, spurred by an unusually large slate of congressional candidates.

Political observers watched the election for an answer to this question: Can the Democrats hold their gains of 1956, when they elected an Iowa governor for the first time in 20 years and cracked the solid Republican congressional delegation?

Democratic Gov. Herschel Loveless has no primary opposition.

Sales Tax Issue

The Republican governorship contest produced most of the fireworks as the two candidates, Dr. William G. Murray, an Iowa State college professor and Lt. Gov. William H. Nicholas clashed over tax philosophy.

Murray, making his first try for public office, proposed raising the sales tax from two to three per cent and using the extra money to help pay the costs of local school districts.

Nicholas opposed any tax increases and said the Republicans can't beat Loveless in November on a three per cent sales tax program.

Lone Democrat

Republicans sought to unseat Rep. Mervin Coad, Iowa's lone Democrat in congress, in the sixth district. Three Republicans contested for the nomination to oppose Coad.

Democrats were rated the best chance of gaining another congressional seat in the Fourth district where veteran Republican Karl Lecompte did not seek re-election. Three Democrats and three Republicans were in the race.

Of the six other Republican congressional incumbents all were unopposed except Rep. H. R. Cross. He was challenged in the Third district by Mrs. Enid Robinson, former GOP state vice chairman.

Polls opened at 7 a. m. in the major cities and 8 a. m. elsewhere. They close all over the state at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Vel R. Phillips, only Negro member of the Milwaukee common council, became a candidate for the office of national Democratic committeewoman from Wisconsin. The post was vacated by the resignation of Mrs. Betty Graichen. (AP Wirephoto)

Two unions are now on strike with no settlement in sight.

Question Red Fishing Boats Off Canada

Washington —P— American officials are wondering what, besides fishing, a half dozen Russian vessels may be doing about 100 miles off Canada's east coast.

The Russian fishing ships have been scouted, and U. S. naval and air officers noted that the number never seems to vary much whether or not there are fish in the area. The vessels have been seen near an area marked by buoys flying small Russian flags.

The place where the Soviet ships have been stationed lies in international waters and the general area is visited by fishing craft of a number of nations.

Thus, said an official who discussed the situation with newsmen yesterday, the Russian ships are not breaking any law by staying where they are.

But there was speculation the Russians might be engaged in observing movements of American and Canadian ships and aircraft. Planes assigned to the U. S. Navy's Atlantic aircraft warning system fly over that region in operating out of an air station at Argentina, Newfoundland.

In any event, the Russians have not tried to keep presence of the ships a secret.

Boston Man Heads Mother Church of Christian Scientists

Boston —P— Leonard T. Carney of Boston today was named president of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

His appointment was announced by the Christian Science Board of Directors at the annual meeting of the denomination attended by more than 7,000 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world. He succeeds Miss Mabel Ellen Lucas of Brookline and will serve for one year.

A member of the board of trustees of the Christian Science Publishing society, Carney holds degrees from Grinnell college, Iowa and the Harvard law school. He is a native of Marshalltown, Iowa, and has been authorized to teach Christian Science since 1934. He has been a Christian Science practitioner since 1919.

Roy Garrett Watson and Gordon V. Comer were reelected treasurer and clerk, respectively.

The board of directors told the meeting that scientific reliance on God's power is needed to meet the challenges of the space age.

Hurless Silent On Request for Resignation

Refuses to Comment Until He Sees Committee Report

Milwaukee —P— City Comptroller Virgil H. Hurless remains silent on a special board of inquiry recommendation that he resign.

"I haven't seen the report and I will not comment until I have had an opportunity to study it," Hurless said Sunday.

Hurless was out of the city when the report was released Saturday afternoon.

In a recommendation to the common council, the inquiry board said Hurless should be asked to give up his office immediately and if he declines to do so, the council should remove him from office.

At issue is an accounting of $12,584. Hurless testified at a recent hearing that if he made a mistake in not keeping more accurate records, it was an honest one.

The report, filed with the city clerk, said:

"The comptroller, even under the most liberal application of minimum standards, cannot be regarded as having made a sufficient and proper accounting."

The common council scheduled a meeting late today to receive the report from the board of inquiry, which also recommended that the city attorney begin legal proceedings to recover $12,584 withdrawn on 41 expense vouchers that could not be properly substantiated.

Car, Driver Submerged When Cloudburst Hits

Glendive, Mont. —P— A car with a woman driver inside was submerged by water yesterday when a cloudburst struck. She was rescued unharmed by another motorist.

The woman, Mamie Anna Cravens of Savage, Mont., was clinging to the automobile when an unidentified man waded and swam to her rescue.

The wind and rain shoved the car nearly 100 feet off state Highway 16 northeast of Glendive in eastern Montana. It was buried temporarily in what normally is a dry creek bed.

Unexpected Obstacle Greets Bay Motorists

Green Bay —P— An unexpected obstacle — in this case the Fox river — greeted Memorial holiday motorists Sunday when they arrived at the Main street bridge.

The bridge was wide open and wouldn't close. Engineers said the electrical system burned out and that it would take hours — perhaps all night — to fix it. Traffic was rerouted to two other bridges.

Woman Found in Lime Pit Dies in Hospital

Brighton, Colo. —P— A woman died yesterday after she was found lying nude in a large lime pit.

Bill Kearns, chief sheriff's investigator, said the woman may have been a victim of foul play. Identification was not complete.

The woman's screams were heard by a motorist who called police. Firemen in rubber hip boots and gloves waded into the deadly chemical to rescue the woman.

Doctors said she apparently died of heart failure brought on by severe shock.

Tunisia, France Both Seek U. S. Support for Cross Complaints in UN

America Faces Hard Choice; Would Offend Either Country

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS

United Nations, N. Y. —P— Tunisia and France both sought U. S. support today for cross complaints to the U. N. security council. Each blamed the other for recent clashes on Tunisian soil.

Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim and France's Guillaume Georges-Picot were expected to be the first speakers at today's council meeting called to consider the two new complaints.

The United States faced a hard choice. If it backed Tunisia, it would offend the new French government of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, a NATO ally. If it backed France, it would offend Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba's western regime. If it abstained it would please neither side.

Both complaints concerned a battle between Tunisian and French troops May 24 and 25 around Remada, southern Tunisia, and a French air raid on that region May 23 from neighboring Algeria.

Charge Aggression
Tunisia charged "acts of aggression committed against it by French forces stationed in its territory and in Algeria."

France accused Tunisia of violating a February standstill agreement regarding the 20,000 French troops remaining in Tunisia, a former French protectorate.

France also asked for resumption of debate on her complaint last February charging Tunisian aid to Algerian Moslem rebels. It was put in to counter a Tunisian complaint against a Feb. 8 French air raid on a Tunisian village.

The council shelved both complaints Feb. 18 to allow Pa-

Britain and the United States to try to settle the issues through good offices. Those efforts failed when the French government was voted out of office for its willingness to compromise.

Neither government submitted a resolution in advance of the council meeting, and there was some speculation that the debate might end without a vote. But informed diplomats said the Tunisian delegation privately had been discussing the possibility of action involving the council, a good-offices mission or Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

President Fails to See Demonstration Against Nuclear Tests

Washington —P— A group opposed to nuclear testing demonstrated quietly in front of the White House yesterday, but President Eisenhower wasn't there to see them.

Some 700 Walkers for Peace came here from various parts of the east and elsewhere to march before the executive mansion and later to attend a rally on the grounds of the Washington monument nearby.

Watched by some 25 special policemen, the demonstrators paraded with signs reading "stop the tests" and "peace in the world or a world in pieces." Their 90-minute march at the White House was without incident. At the time, Eisenhower was at his farm in Gettysburg, Pa.

Sober 'Stiff'
Madison — Harry A. Deadman was fined $15 after he pretended to be dead drunk. The 19-year-old youth was lifted into a squad car when he was found on the street, apparently helpless. Deadman sobbed immediately and explained he merely was amusing himself by pretending to be drunk. Police were not amused. They changed their complaint from drunkenness to disorderly conduct, and the court fined him $15.

Unicycle Solves Transportation Problem for Student
East Lansing, Mich. — A Michigan State University student has a unique solution to the problem of getting from class to class on the sprawling MSU campus here.

Bob Johnson, a senior from Clawson, Mich., discovered his ability to balance a unicycle is a step-saver. What's more, Johnson says, a unicycle is the only means of transportation not under regulation. Although students are not permitted to ride bicycles on the sidewalks, he claims no law prohibits his one-wheeler.

Johnson says steering is all with the hips. He rides with hands free to carry books. "And I haven't hit anyone yet," he says.

Foreign aid to totalitarian countries—both communist and non-communist—should be stopped, Sen. William Proxmire said at an Outagamie county Democratic party rally at Pine Castle Sunday evening.

Proxmire named Yugoslavia as one of the countries to which aid should be stopped.

"Not only is Yugoslavia a dictatorship where individual liberties are suppressed, but there isn't any question it would side with Russia in case of war," the senator declared. "This country should exercise intelligence by prohibiting aid to those nations who won't stand up to communism."

'New Look'
Proxmire called for a "new look" in U. S. foreign policy, with emphasis on loans rather than "giveaway" programs.

"By loaning money we are able to control the purposes for which it is spent and eliminate waste. In the long run the United States would gain more respect abroad. The Republican state convention went a long way toward electing Democrats to Wisconsin state and national offices, Proxmire said. He cited GOP right-to-work proposals as an omen of Democratic victory in the fall.

"Right-to-work really means right-to-wreck," Proxmire declared. "It would destroy unions by eliminating the union shop."

Proxmire called an unemployment compensation law passed by Congress this session "shameful" and blamed Republicans and southern Democrats for its passage.

"I voted for the bill because it is better than nothing," he said.

"Twenty years ago the laid-off worker received, on the average, unemployment compensation that was 60 per cent of the average covered wage. Today he gets little more than a third of the average covered wage."

"The result is that our economy has lost much of the unemployment compensation cushion established by the Roosevelt New Deal."

"A prime purpose of unemployment compensation was to stem the snowballing effect of unemployment. The old soup kitchen and breadline of the 1930's meant that millions of jobless workers stopped being customers and consumers for American industry. Loss of customers meant loss of production and even more unemployment."

Unemployment compensation was designed to break this vicious compounding of human misery. It no longer does. Benefits have increased slowly, but far more slowly than the cost of living."

Proxmire attacked President Eisenhower as "a weak leader of a disorganized team."

The administration dairy program is ruining agriculture, he said.

Proxmire predicted farm unrest will mean election of a Democratic congressman in the Eighth district.

He urged the graduates to consider seriously the words of St. Paul when he said, "Now you have become a man and you must put away the things of a child."

Free Scoring Tilts Feature Softball Play

VFW, Arcade Post
Wins as All Teams
Score Over 10 Runs

Kaukauna — Free scoring games highlighted action in the City Softball league Wednesday night but the final scores were closer than the majority of games played thus far this season.

VFW bar edged Arnold's 16 to 15 in the opening game while the second game saw Arcade bar defeat Shermys' barbers 17 to 14. A 4-run rally by VFW in the last of the seventh enabled it to take the win after Arnold's had moved into the lead in the top of the seventh.

The losers picked up a run in the first inning, added three in the second, one in the fourth, seven in the sixth and three in the seventh. A homer and two singles by Ken Roloff in five trips was the best hitting effort by the losers who had 12 safeties.

The winners scored four runs in the second on one hit, added five in the fourth on four hits, scored two in the fifth without a hit, picked up one in the sixth on two hits and then won the game with four in the seventh on two hits. VFW made nine hits, five for extra bases including two homers by Bob Weyenberg. Dan Bowers with three hits in four trips led the winners at the plate.

Arcade Posts Win

The Arcade - Shermys' game was a nip and tuck affair with a big 6-run splurge in the sixth inning spelling the difference. The losers opened the scoring in the first frame with four runs on no hits. Arcade scored two in the bottom of the first on a walk and a homer by Jack Ashauer.

Shermy's added three runs in the second including a homer, by Ed Wettstein and the winners tied the game in their half of the inning with five runs on five hits, including a homer by Ken Van Zeeland.

Arcade scored another run in the third, added two in the fourth, one in the fifth and six in the sixth. Carl Bowers rapped a bases loaded homer for the winners in the sixth frame. ## School Board Asks for Bids On Addition

Expect Kimberly Structure to Cost Near $500,000

Kimberly — The school board of school district No. 6 has advertised for bids on the addition for the Kimberly public school, according to J. R. Gerrits, superintendent.

Sealed bids will be accepted until 1:30 in the afternoon June 18 at the office of George Narovec, architect, Appleton.

Details of plans and specifications are available at the architect's office.

The addition is expected to cost some $500,000. On March 11 voters of the district overwhelmingly supported a bond issue for the structure.

16 Classrooms — Plans call for the addition to contain 16 classrooms and it will adjoin the present school building. The addition will include elementary classrooms and administrative offices.

The addition will face Maple street and extend south. It will be built in the block between Kimberly avenue and First street.

The kindergarten suite will contain two classrooms and will contain a play area of its own. The 2-story elementary bloc will consist of 14 classrooms and a 1-story wing will connect the new structure with the present building.

The connecting wing will include a projection room, library, health suite, teachers' lounge, vault and general offices.

One of the classrooms in the elementary bloc will be used for kindergarten purposes until the kindergarten demand tapers off.

Russians Put on Gray Flannel Suits

Soft Sell Attitude New Diplomatic Technique Utilized by Ambassador

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington—A gray-flannel-suit kind of Soviet diplomacy is making visible headway in Washington at an hour when many see a weakening everywhere in the western position. If imitation is indeed the sincerest form of flattery, this country is being flattered as never before. For the emissary and personification of a new Kremlin diplomatic technique, Russian Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov, might well have come instead from Madison avenue, U.S.A.

Menshikov, is, in appearance, a sunny world away from the terrible glacialness that so obviously lay in such a man as V. M. Molotov. And he is an open-faced continent removed from the dark, closed and sullenly monosyllabic quality of an Andrei Gromyko. So almost aggressively Nordic in looks is Menshikov that you might take him, in passing on the street, for a Minnesota halfback of two decades ago—a man still trim in a blocky way and probably a whale of a golfer. Unlike most foreigners, whose English usually comes with a British accent, his is gray flannel suit—the suit which has become the symbol of the high art of salesmanship. Of this salesmanship, Madison avenue speaks of two kinds. There is the "hard sell," where resistance is beaten down by frankly urgent and all but truculent appeals. And there is the "soft sell," where all is done quietly and casually, as between two friends sitting down to a conversation. For Menshikov, it is beyond doubt the soft sell. And it seems to grow softer and softer as the crisis in France, for example, grows sharper and sharper.

He is making himself more chattily available at more times and in more ways to more groups and individuals than has any Soviet spokesman in Washington since the years of the great delusion. These, of course, were the late '30s and early '40s when many persisted in the notion that the Russians were really "democratic" and perhaps the world's best hope against nazism. Much time has run since then. The atomic - hydrogen weapons have been spawned. Many now argue that the Soviet Union really wants peace, effort to develop "clean" bombs not war - concord, not combatants. This correspondent does not pretend to know whether this is a morally right or a stop nuclear tests altogether mortally wrong estimate. But the instinct and memories of this writer keep saying, "look out!" Menshikov, is, in appearance, a sunny world away from the terrible glacialness that so obviously lay in such a man as V. M. Molotov. And he is an open-faced continent removed from the dark, closed and sullenly monosyllabic quality of an Andrei Gromyko. So almost aggressively Nordic in looks is Menshikov that you might take him, in passing on the street, for a Minnesota halfback of two decades ago—a man still trim in a blocky way and probably a whale of a golfer. Unlike most foreigners, whose English usually comes with a British accent, his is gray flannel suit—the suit which has become the symbol of the high art of salesmanship. Of this salesmanship, Madison avenue speaks of two kinds. There is the "hard sell," where resistance is beaten down by frankly urgent and all but truculent appeals. And there is the "soft sell," where all is done quietly and casually, as between two friends sitting down to a conversation. For Menshikov, it is beyond doubt the soft sell. And it seems to grow softer and softer as the crisis in France, for example, grows sharper and sharper.

Most of all, the Soviet line is answering questions only by asking other questions. When will there be a statistical report to the U. N. on the number of persons held in slave labor? Why should there be such a report? There are no slave laborers in Russia. Are the Russians making any effort to develop "clean" bombs and thus to limit their effect on noncombatants? Now, really, not pretend to know whether this is a morally right or a stop nuclear tests altogether mortally wrong estimate. But

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused: The much-used expression "show up" in the sense of appear, arrive, or come, is not good usage and should be avoided. It is also an undesirable colloquialism for "expose." Say "Did he ARRIVE (not show up) at the party?" And, "We intend to EXPOSE his false pretensions (not show him up)." Often mispronounced: Repetitive Accent second syllable not the first Often misspelled: Roue (a debauchee), observe the vowels. Synonyms: Modest humble, unassuming unobtrusive unostentatious unpretending unpretentious Word study: Use a word three times and it is yours. Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day Today's word: indubitably, unquestionably in a manner to remove all doubt "He is indubitably the man for this position"

Police Sergeant Runs

Stop Sign, Arrests Self Gastonia, N.C. — Police Sgt. J. J. Mosteller, after lecturing a Boy Scout troop on safety, ran a stop sign and hit a car. Acting as the investigating officer, the embarrassed police veteran quoted himself that he thought the stop sign was one block away. He charged himself with running it. # Masterful Timing Keeps De Gaulle in Center of France's Political Stage

Frenchmen Watch His Every Move as He Seeks to End Crisis

Paris — (U) — With the suspenseful timing of a veteran prima donna, Gen. Charles De Gaulle for 18 years has kept Frenchmen watching his every move.

His stage has been the battlefield, exile in England, the Champs Elysees crowded with his countrymen celebrating the end of World War II, the national assembly and his solitary country home near Metz.

The tall, stern general has long been a master of timing and suspense. His recent news conference, when he declared he was ready to "assume the powers of the republic," was a good example. He announced the conference long enough in advance to allow an enormous sense of expectation to build up. When he finally spoke, all France and the world listened attentively.

The 67-year-old general, born in Lillie on Nov. 22, 1890, has been proposing dramatic and decisive solutions to France's problems almost since he was graduated from St. Cyr Military academy. He has been alternately inspiring and vexing to his associates.

Motorized Columns
As early as 1928, when France's military leaders were planning for the kind of wars fought in the past, De Gaulle proposed motorized columns and tanks that could strike sudden blows at an enemy. French leaders did not listen, but the Germans did. Their lightning attacks in World War II proved De Gaulle had been right.

When German forces assembled on France's border in 1939, De Gaulle urged that France keep the initiative by attacking first. His own subsequent performance won him a battlefield promotion to brigadier general. At 50, he was the youngest general in the army.

When France collapsed, De Gaulle wasted no time in proclaiming a "Free France" to fight on from England and North Africa. "France has lost a battle," he declared, "but France has not lost the war." He assured Frenchmen listening to his London broadcast that France would be one of the victors. "She will then regain her liberty and her greatness," he said.

With the aid of the other allies, the general built a fighting force of half a million men. Shunting rivals aside, he proclaimed that he personally represented France and would have to be dealt with as an equal among allies.

Britain and the United States supported him, but not without some annoyance.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, referring to the sym-

Permits for Three Homes, Ice Firm Remodeling Issued

Three permits for new homes and another for remodeling of the Lutz Ice company building, 314 N. Superior street, have been issued by Building Inspector Walter Bogan.

The home permits bring to 95 the number of such permits granted since Jan. 1.

Hugh F. Miller will build a 5-room house, with bath, at 818 S. Christine street for about $10,000.

Gerald Greunke will build a 5-room house, with bath and separate garage, at 325 S. Schaefer street for about $12,000.

Herman Strobl will build a 5-room house, with bath, at 706 S. Christine street for about $12,000.

The ice company will spend about $4,000 remodeling existing space for refrigeration, a company spokesman said.

Norma Freidman also received a permit, for construction of a 2-car garage at 61 Cherry court, to cost about $1,000.

bol De Gaulle had chosen for the Free French, complained, "of all the crosses I have borne since 1940 none is so heavy as the cross of Lorraine."

President Franklin D. Roosevelt wrote in a letter after the allies' Casablanca conference, "the day (De Gaulle) arrived he thought he was Joan of Arc and the following day he insisted he was Georges Clemenceau."

But De Gaulle got what he wanted — he kept France in the front rank of the world powers.

De Gaulle became provisional president of France as the war was ending and fought for a constitution that would provide strong executive leadership. When he lost, he dramatically bowed out of the political picture. He spoke, as on many other occasions, of France's grandeur and declared he would not impotently lead an impotent government.

A year later he returned to politics and all eyes again turned to him. His party, the rally of the French people, won 40 per cent of the popular vote in 1947 municipal elections. But the tide receded, and in 1953 the party was dissolved.

De Gaulle again went into seclusion. But he let it be known in constant private consultations with French leaders that he would serve whenever he could get the power to do things his own way.

Ridiculing suggestions that he might try to take over by force, he once asserted, "one usually ascribes to be one quality — intelligence. Then how can one suppose that I am so unintelligent as to want to make a coup d'etat?"

When French military commanders in Algeria broke away from Paris control, the general needed a sure sense of timing. Some Frenchmen thought he missed his chance when he did not immediately call for revolution to take him to power. Some feared his moment passed when the national assembly voted emergency powers for Premier Pierre Pflimlin.

But De Gaulle waited patiently instead of losing out because of the delay, he gained ground. A false step might have cost him the prize. He did not make one.

Southern Rhodesia Will Ballot Thursday

Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia —The white voters of Southern Rhodesia will show Thursday how far they are willing to go along with the dictum of Cecil Rhodes: "Equal rights for every civilized man."

Rhodes, 19th century British empire builder in Africa, laid down this policy for the colony he staked out shortly before he died. He defined a civilized man as one who could write his name and owned property or had a regular job.

Southern Rhodesia, a self-governing British colony, lies north of the Union of South Africa. It has a population of approximately 200,000 whites and 2 1/2 million non-whites.

Southern Rhodesia has been in the grip of a government crisis for three months. Next week a new parliament will be chosen by some 50,000 white voters and slightly more than a thousand registered non-whites who have been recognized as entitled to vote. The criterion of civilization for Africans is a job earning at least $672 a year or ownership of property worth $1,400 and three years of high school education. These are high standards under present conditions.

DeGaulle Isn't Likely To be Ruled by Rightists

But World Can't Predict if He'll Restore Sanity or Imitate Franco

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Paris — Many are groping for a key to present events in France and their probable future meaning.

They might well ponder the following remarks by a well-attested story of the beginning of the present agonizing crisis.

It concerns the moment when the infuriated crowd in Algiers had already attacked the great building of the government general; and the French commander in chief, Gen. Salan, had given the task of restoring order to his paratroop commander, the famous Gen. Massu.

At this terrible moment, as his men were forming up, Gen. Massu telephoned Paris to ask his masters in the civil government the key question. Should he or should he not fire on the crowd? He pointed out the odds against restoring order by any other means were very heavy indeed, and he added that this was essentially a political choice.

At that time, of course, there was an interregnum in Paris. Felix Gaillard, who was hastily consulted, replied he had already ceased to be prime minister and was therefore unable to answer Gen. Massu's question. And Pierre Pflimlin, consulted with equal haste, replied he had not yet become prime minister and was therefore unable to answer Massu's question. In sum the civilian of the army will accept orders politicians refused the responsibility of making the crucial firm enough and decisive decision. So Gen. Massu re-joined in his own man-head, consider again the epiphany, by joining in the formation of Gen. Massu, asking of the committee of public safety.

What is revealed, above all, is the relative freedom of choice that a serious and firm legitimate government of French government can still enjoy and exercise if it wishes to do so. It is true the crisis was precipitated by extremists of the right, like Massu's civilian colleagues on the Algiers committee of public safety.

It is also true some sort of plot was already on foot when the fierce atmosphere at Algiers suddenly cloaked into total crisis—the coded messages of the Algiers radio are proof of that.

If you consider the history of Gen. Massu's telephone call and all that preceded it, you cannot properly argue the civil government of France was abandoned by the army. At any rate, it is just as accurate to say the army was abandoned first by the civil government. What, then, will the army do now, this army which was and is the key factor in all this grim affair?

The best answer one can give is at once simple and complex, disturbing as well as reassuring. There are of course plenty of right-wing extremists in the French army. The officers who joined in the Corsican operation, the officers of the paratroop outfits that quietly moved into the military airdromes of metropolitan France in the first days of crisis, can hardly have included many persons with liberal or leftwing views. In fact they no doubt included a good many with downright anti-democratic tendencies.

Minority Element
But this element in the army is first of all a minority; and secondly, even the extremists refused the responsibility of making the crucial firm enough and decisive decision. So Gen. Massu re-joined in his own man-head, consider again the epiphany, by joining in the formation of Gen. Massu, asking of the committee of public safety.

What is revealed, above all, is the relative freedom of choice that a serious and firm legitimate government of

State Taxpayers Paid More Than $2 Billion in '57

For the second year in a row Wisconsin taxpayers paid over $2 billion in federal, state and local taxes, according to the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance.

Levies and collections increased from $2,021,030,000 in 1956 to $2,181,672,000 in 1957, the Alliance reports. Figures are for fiscal periods ending June 30 in each year.

Federal and state income taxes accounted for the largest amount of tax money paid out by Wisconsin taxpayers in fiscal 1957. Net income taxes paid by individuals and corporations made up nearly 66 per cent of all the taxes collected in Wisconsin by federal, state and local units of government.

The property tax accounted for 51 per cent of the tax money paid to state and local units of government. State and local taxes amounted to $533,000,000 in 1953 and rose to $727,000,000 in 1957, the Alliance states.

For Gen. De Gaulle, in contrast, there will be no danger of abandonment. He can give his orders, to control or even to suppress the rightwing extremists, for instance, and they will be carried out by the army. Furthermore, those who think that De Gaulle is likely to be the "prisoner" of such men as Soustelle and Delecluse can hardly have read much of the history of the last war. The man whom Roosevelt and Churchill could not make a prisoner, is hardly likely to become the prisoner of such a one as Jacques Soustelle.

In sum, the choice will be up to Gen. de Gaulle and up to him alone. What one cannot predict is whether he will be content to restore sanity and order in France or whether he will imitate Franco or Salazar. The signs are encouraging. But no one really knows the inner mind of this looming, remote and enormous figure who now dominates the scene in this strife-divided country. (Copyright 1958)

A 15-year-old girl who told police she got angry about her baby-sitting job early Saturday morning, took her uncle's 1936 station wagon left five children ranging up to 8 alone and smashed the car on Highway 41 near the Soo line viaduct.

The girl was treated for a concussion at Theda Clark hospi- tal in Neenah and was re- turned to her home in Appleton by her parents Sunday.

State police said the station wagon apparently was north- bound on Highway 41 when the girl lost control. It left the roadway and rolled five or six times. The accident occurred about 12 15 Saturday morning on a straight stretch of highway just north of the Highway 41 Soo line viaduct near Neenah.

Appleton police found the children sleeping after state po- lice notified them of the girls story. The girl's mother finish- ed the baby-sitting job.

The girl told state police she was notified late Friday night she would have to stay the night with the children. How- ever, the girl's mother told po- lice her daughter knew the job was for the entire weekend.

racing pigeons at his home. The Mapes application was ac- companied by a protest from five neighbors and a letter from Civil Defense Director Robert C. Beltrone urging granting of the permit.

Beltrone said Mapes' pigeons would be vital to civil defense communications be knocked out in a disaster. Board members questioned how pigeons, home-based in Appleton, could be of service unless moved out of the city ahead of dis- aster.

All or None

Ald Alvin Tewes said it would not be right to deny the two requests and permit others, who keep fowl and animals without a permit to go unnoticed. He said he could cite three cases he knows of off hand.

Deputy City Health Officer Claude N. Greisch was ordered to search the city for viola- tors.

The board under city ordi- nance can give a written per- mit for keeping of pigs, rab- bits, goats, sheep, chickens, geese, ducks, doves and other fowl but the decisions this morning indicated it will not issue them.

Persons arrested for viola- tion of the ordinance and con- victed in court can be sub- jected to a fine of between $5 and $25 or three to 20 days and Mapes a permit to keep in county jail.

Report Says Junior High Teachers Doing Fine Job

Committee Offers 8 Recommendations For Improvement

The teaching and administrative staffs of Appleton Junior high schools are well qualified and doing a fine job, but there are eight places where improvements might be made, according to a general evaluation by a committee of three, including a teacher, a PTA president and a housewife.

The evaluation, presented to

Supt. of Schools John P. Mann and the board of education, was made by Mrs. H. J. LeDain, 708 E. Harrison street, W. R. Monteth, a physical education teacher at Wilson Junior High, and G.A. Rushton, 1812 N. Erb street, president of Roosevelt PTA.

In addition to the eight recommendations, the group also felt school administrators should try to reduce the pupil-teacher ratio from its present 30 to 1. They felt the students would benefit from the individual attention they would get if providing lunch rooms in junior high schools for students living in rural areas and others who must bring lunches.

5-Provision of personnel and money to incorporate research on educational evaluation and a public relations program to keep the public informed of school activities. The report also said the PTA council could be used effectively in this area.

6-Continual experimentation to find better educational methods and techniques. The committee felt each school should be allowed to have some individual differences and not all schools should be required to adhere to exactly the same methods.

7-Continued pushing by the board of education and superintendents would increase the school budget.

salaries for teachers so they can devote full time to their profession. Another proposal concerning teacher salary schedules was to increase the annual pay increments to a point where the maximum salary would be reached in 12 years instead of the present 16. The increments would then end at 12 years service.

8-Appointment of a committee to study the possibility of instituting a merit salary plan for teachers and administrators.

The committee said it realized some of the recommendations would increase the school budget.

11 Playgrounds Open June 16, Close Aug. 15

Grover to Send 25-Man Staff to Training Session

Appleton's 11 summer playgrounds will open Monday morning, June 16, and close Friday afternoon, Aug. 15, Recreation Director Elmer W. Grover announced today.

The playground season is nine weeks long this year, one week less than in previous years. Curtailment was ordered to defray cost of an average $50 wage increase granted playground leaders April 10 by the recreation commission.

Playground leaders will supervise play from 9:30 in the morning to noon and from 1 o'clock in the afternoon to 8 o'clock at night Mondays through Thursdays. The Friday schedule is the same except

Camp-O-Ree First Aid Plan Set Up

A complete first aid station will be set up at Pierce park for the Valley Boy Scout council camp-o-ree June 6 to 8, according to Miss Lyda Butler, industrial nurse for the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, and one woman play leader on each of the playgrounds. Lawrence Witzke again will be the overall supervisor. Lloyd Koehnke will supervise boys' basketball leagues and softball, and baseball leagues. Michael Brandt will supervise arts and crafts, an addition to the program. Robert Goemaus will instruct in tennis and archery.

Grover and all of the leaders will attend three days of classes preparing for the opening of one of the days at a special recreation leaders' training institute at Green Bay.

The Green Bay institute is scheduled for June 12 at Bay Beach park, sponsored by the Green Bay park and recreation department. Community leaders within a 75-mile radius of Green Bay have been invited. A $1 fee is charged.

First of Kind
Grover said the Green Bay institute is the first of its kind in the state for all recreation personnel. Previous institutes were held for directors or overall supervisors.

On the program will be Robert L. Horney, of the National Recreation association, and Mrs. Alice Dietz, Minneapolis, a crafts instructor. Discussions and questions and answers about recreation techniques also are scheduled.

The institute will augment Grover's annual 2-day training session for leaders usually held at city hall. It will come between the two sessions, Grover said, on June 11 and 13.

James Kositzke Wins Fraternity Award

James O. Kositzke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kositzke, 1515 N. Clark street, has been awarded the Beta Alpha Psi outstanding service award. The citation is given to the graduating senior who has given the greatest service to the fraternity during his last two years at the University of Wisconsin. The group is a professional and honorary accounting fraternity.

Safer Driving Tips

High-Speed Driving Ups Odds for Fatal Accident

Russian roulette, anyone? Of course not. Who'd be silly mer—one in 20. At that speed enough to play that game? But it'll take about an hour more now about out there on the highway?

Do you ever drive fast? Then if a collision takes place the chance of a fatality occurring is one in 50. The slower speed the National Safety council will mean a couple more hours of driving on the 400-mile jaunt.

Each 10 miles an hour decrease in speed increases your chances of coming out of a car wreck alive.

"Don't be a gambler on the highway," the council warns. "The stakes are the greatest—your life, or the lives of your loved ones."

Board Seeks Name for New State Prison

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — The state board of public welfare is inviting help in choosing an easy, descriptive and dignified name for a new state prison to be built as a separate institution near the state penitentiary in Waupun.

The state division of corrections has offered "The Wisconsin Correctional Institution" as a legal description of the new medium security confinement center about to be started, but the board temporarily rejected it. Some members, they said, found it unwieldy and too formal.

Sanger B. Powers, director of the corrections division, says that it probably won't make any difference what name is chosen. He thinks it will be known as "Fox Lake," after the nearby post office, just as the state reformatory has been known as "Green Bay" for half a century and colloquial use has given the name "Waupun" to the state penitentiary for an even longer time.

Powers said a legal name is necessary in the commitment statutes. He doesn't want the word "prison" attached to the institution, he said, because up to half of the prospective inmates will be transfers from the reformatory. The word also has a "custody connotation," he said.

"The trend in the federal prison system and in several other states is to use the word 'correctional' in naming new institutions," he observed.

Historymobile on Peoples of State To Show in June

The State Historical society's new and enlarged historymobile featuring the peoples of Wisconsin will be in three cities in this area beginning June 14.

The trailer exhibit will be in Appleton June 15 and 16, on N. Appleton street near the H. C. Prange store. It will be in Hortonville Saturday, June 14, and in Kaukauna Tuesday, June 17.

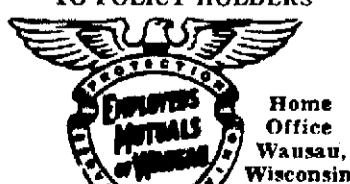

Artifacts, models, photographs, maps and illustrations will be on display to tell the story of the state's people. The historical material will explain why these people came to Wisconsin, how they arrived and where they settled. It will show graphically what the people believed, how they lived and what their contributions have been to the culture of the state.

Singer Pat Boone Strives to 'Have It Made' in Real Sense

BY PAT BOONE
New York — (U) — When you get a television show of your own, as it happened to me this year, there's a question refrain that comes with it: "How's it going?" Meaning, what's the rating?

"Why do you do it?" Meaning, why with all the load of rehearsing and performing the weekly show, making recordings, personal appearances, filming and the rest, did you decide to continue at Columbia university until you got your degree?

What good will a college degree do you or your show? Or maybe it's just a publicity stunt?

You don't make the dean's list by just showing up at class with a bright smile. Man, I just don't dig that college degree business. What'll it do for you? Man, right now, you've got it made.

Point Unsure
I've tried answering, explaining. And sometimes I think I've made my point. But I'm not sure. So I just have to go on doing my days in the way that feels right for me and my family—a wife and four daughters.

I know what they mean when they say, "You've got it made." But I don't believe I've got it made by things outside me—by name or fame or ratings or possessions or even a college degree. You only "have it made" by what you are, by what you have in you.

Long before I found I could make my way as a singer, I wanted to teach. Working with youngsters was my ambition when I started at North Texas State college. It still is. Maybe

Safer Driving Simply Matter Of Economics

Safety Council Says Caution Can Save All Drivers More Money

Pretty tough making ends meet these days, and just about everybody's in the same boat. A lot of folks, though, have learned how to stretch their dollars — and their years of living. The system involves the family auto.

"Take good care of your car and drive it safely. You'll save money," the National Safety Council says.

Money-savers have found that keeping their cars in good shape costs less in the end. The most frequent problems on trips, for example, involve the decisions of that world honestly and intelligently.

College is one of the preparations I can make to meet this constant responsibility. TV ratings, record sales, motion picture box-office receipts, these do not answer a child's needs drain.

"Take it easy behind the wheel," the council suggests. "Even if you're not concerned with the high cost of drivelle-mad motoring, wear and tear on yourself is certainly a consideration."

"Slow down—you'll save money and live longer."

Atheist Advocate Feels Ann's Faith Indicates Ignorance

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your insulting attack on atheists exposed your ignorance to millions of readers. This is the twentieth century — an age of science and progress. Only the fearful and the weak cling to a fairy tale 2,000 years old. Intelligent Ann Landers people aren't hampered by the excess baggage of religion. Theories of supernatural humbug have been perpetuated by charlatans to quiet the masses and to keep them content with poverty, hunger and disease.

Let's be rational and not concern ourselves with such rubbish as whether or not we're going to hell in the next world. If we don't wake up, a free-thinking and godless country like Russia may provide us with a hell right here.

You owe an apology to all free-thinkers everywhere. You have no right to ridicule or belittle a view merely because you don't agree with it. I believe in freedom of speech. Do you?—Twentieth Century Mind

DEAR TWENTIETH CENTURY MIND: Yes, I believe in freedom of speech. The fact that your letter appears in print is evidence.

A human relations counselor is expected to have some convictions. It is not only my prerogative but it's my obligation to take a stand on a good number of thorny issues.

When I defined the atheist as "a person with no invisible means of support" I wasn't trying to be funny.

I believe in religion as an arsenal of strength. I know that the armor of faith can protect us against life's shattering blows. Faith is often the answer when there is no answer. It's the victory of the spirit—the logic of the heart.

Those who follow current events are aware that the goddess dictatorship which once advertised religion as "the opiate of the masses" has softened the line. They are loosening the reins as they become increasingly aware that man cannot live by mathematical equations alone.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You always seem to come up with the answer I wish I'd thought of. Right now I am stumped. What would you have done in a case like this:

Yesterday was my birthday. My husband came home from work and didn't say anything except "Where's the beer?"

When I couldn't stand it any more I said, "Honey, do you know what day it is?" He said, "Yes, it's Tuesday." Then I said, "I know it's Tuesday. But isn't there something special about it?"

After a few minutes of hemming and hawing he said, "Oh, yes, today is your birthday. Why don't you buy yourself a nice present and hand me the bill?" Mrs. Landers, what would you do?—Charlotte

DEAR CHARLOTTE: I would buy myself a nice present and hand him the bill.

DEAR ANN: I am a girl 15 and I'm crazy about a boy the same age. I've been going with him on the sneak because my parents don't like him. He made a bad impression on them last year when he got into a jam unscrewing city light bulbs and breaking them? He was one of a group of five. You would have thought they committed murder the way everyone carried on.

Yesterday my mother caught me in the drugstore with this boy and she almost popped a blood vessel. She said if I continue to see him she will send me to live with my grandmother in a small town. I would hate this. How can I make her see that she's being unfair to me? — Sugar Cane

Any time a girl sees a boy on the sneak, she's being unfair to herself. Trust your mother to know a little more about life than you do. You're just a beginner, and she's had a post-graduate course. Things will be much more pleasant if you make friends with boys with whom you can be seen in broad daylight. Try it.

Neither side vulnerable.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

It isn't often that such a sensational deal as the following is the decisive factor in a pair contest, but that was the case recently in a New York club. South, dealer.

NORTH
S-10 9 5
H-Q
D-K Q 7 4
C-J 6 5 3

WEST EAST
S-K Q J S-8 6 4 3 2

SOUTH
S-A 7
H-A K J 10 7 5 3
D-A 3
C-K 10

Some North-South pairs bid up to six hearts; others stopped at a mere game contract. In hearts or no trump, but the results did not matter in these cases because the pairs involved were out of the running. The remarkable fact was that the only two pairs in true contention at a late stage bid up to the same contract, six no trump, at different tables—and that the over-all contest rested on a 30-point overtrick!

Both West, having refrained from doubling six no trump because they were aware that South had to have a very long heart suit for his bidding, opened the spade king certainly the natural choice. Both declarers won and rattled off hearts and the diamond ace, reaching this position:

When the last heart was cashed at one table, West steeled for a while and finally discarded the ace of clubs. South thereupon cashed the club king and West was squeezed again. So this North-South pair made 13 tricks.

The West at the other table steeled even longer when the last heart was cashed, but he finally produced the only discard that could hold declarer to his contract—a diamond, abandoning that suit. (See for yourself.)

Later, looking over the scores, the second declarer moaned: "What a way to be beaten out of top!"

Altar Society From Holy Cross Schedules Covered Dish Dinner

Kaukauna — Prospective members and guests will be entertained by the Altar Society of Holy Cross Catholic church at a covered dish dinner at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at the school cafeteria.

A short business meeting followed by a program and social hour will conclude the evening's activities.

Mrs. W. E. R. "I have ordered two new chairs for our living room and will move two others from there to the family room. Could they be kept as they are in a maroon-red color, or should they be slipcovered to look better with the family room setting that has a bright red seat cushion, black wrought iron tables with white tops, bright red curtains, off-white walls and a Experiment until they seem to mean something in the right place, or organize them into groupings rather than scatter them about. I don't know what the new slipcovers should be."

Most shades of maroon combine successfully with red, but could be kept as it is or should it be changed? Clutter has a way of taking it be a blue and green pattern over a room when nobody's on a white background, or looking. As time goes on, things accumulate—wrong-size pictures, outmoded lamps, and the pulse purchases that turned out to be mistakes, bric-a-brac gifts from people loved more for their generosity than their taste. All at once the scene is confused with a welter of odds and ends, some of which are a definite blight on the room's decoration.

Now, when it's time for every attempt to make rooms look cooler, check them all to see if clutter has taken the upper hand. Look at each room with an outsider's eye. Would it be handsome if half of the accessories were left out? Improvement in decoration isn't always addition—sometimes it's subtraction. Give all small accessories you keep careful thought to Experiment until they seem to mean something in the right place, or organize them into groupings rather than scatter them about. ## Telephone Before Visit To Friend

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend and I disagree on something that we would like you to settle for us. A former co-worker has invited us to come to see her any time we can. I think we should just go without whets the appetite for them. If telephoning. My friend thinks only one had the money? That's we should let her know ahead easy. Use mother's charge account. My contention is that count—that way leads to trouble if we telephone her, she will be.

Money at one's disposal can be dangerous in more ways than one. Its wise use comes by experience, some of it bitter and with lasting effects. Money means power and power in the hands of inexperienced young people can result disastrously for them and other people. A charge account is the sort of thing that only experienced people can manage well.

Allowance First Step

The first step in teaching the use and values of money is the child's allowance. This is given to him when he first asks for money to buy a cone or a chocolate bar. This is the time to put him on a limited allowance and teach him how to use it by

Not Unusual

Dear Mrs. Post: My first husband died, and two years later I remarried. This second marriage was a very unhappy one and after several years we were divorced. Would it be proper for me to go back to my first husband's name? I do not want any part of my second husband's name as it is very distasteful to me.

Answer: It is unusual but not unheard of for a woman to go back to her first husband's name—especially when she has children by this first marriage and wants to have the same name as theirs.

No Obligation

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to send a present in return for a living being sent a graduation announcement?

Answer: No, not at all. If you are especially interested in the pupil and want to—and are able to, a gift is encouraging and pleasing.

Pythian Sisters will meet at 7:45 tonight at Castle hall. A regular session has been planned.

allowing him personal experiences. Gradually as his understanding grows his allowance is increased.

Next he earns money. His earnings should be supervised and he should be advised about its use. The best way to do this is to agree with him that a certain amount is to be saved, a part used for personal necessities for which he, not his parents, shall be responsible from that time forward. Gradually he comes to understanding how far money goes and his relationship to it.

When there is a family charge account the child is first introduced to its use when he has shown a degree of responsibility for his use of money. Then he should be told, "You can spend this amount for a new sweater, and charge it." This limits any idea of wild buying, of returning goods, exchanging them, and the like. It prohibits extravagances and surprisingly big bills.

Children must learn about money before they are allowed to wield its power to their undoing. This is an important department of their education. Parents have duty in this regard.

Beauty Watch Throatline For Aging Signs

By Marian Matthews

Watch the throatline for here lurk the first signs of age. Just wishing away a double chin, wrinkles is a waste of time so begin your work of reclaiming good looks with exercise.

No fancy talk, no gadget will give you the benefits that result from exercise and toning muscles. Posture can play a tremendous part in correcting an unattractive throatline for when your head is held high, a double chin is minimized and wrinkles do not dig in as sharply.

Simple exercises as rolling your head in circles limbers up neck muscles and strengthens them so that you achieve a graceful easy bearing. Slapping the backs of your hands under the chin is an excellent exercise and easy to do a few times during the day. Do this quickly, using both hands and alternating them. Slap just firmly enough to stir up circulation but not to hurt yourself.

For Crepey Skin

To cope with a crepey skin condition use plenty of cream for cleansing and massage after exercising. Use light, firm strokes using the palms of the hands and work them from the base of the throat up to the chin and jawline.

Concentrated efforts of this type can help you carve a new chinline for yourself. The earlier you get to it, the sooner you will be able to see yourself as a younger, prettier chinline.

Let your memory play an important role in coping with a bad chinline. Remind yourself during the day to hold your head erect and in a straight line with your back. Jutting your chin

Asks Advice On Types of Heat Plants

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Question: We're building a new home and would like information about heating systems. It will be natural gas. However the choice is either hot air or hot water. We have our own well water system. What is the water consumption of the hot water type?

Answer: Water consumption would, of course, depend on size of home and heating system. Write to Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, 1, Ill., for information on various types and sizes of heating systems.

Loose Commode

Question: We recently moved into a 2-year-old house. The commode is very loose. Of the knobs in each corner of the bottom ridge of the toilet, only three remain. Consequently toilet is not secured to the tile floor. What can be done to secure the commode to the tile firmly?

Answer: Obtain bolts to match those remaining which fasten toilet to floor. These are available in most hardware and plumbing supplies stores. Replace where needed.

Removing Wallpaper

Question: How can wallpaper be removed from walls?

Answer: Soak the wallpaper with warm water to soften and free the paste. When a whole strip is so softened, the paper almost drops off by itself. A handful of washing soda in a gallon of water may quicken the action, but care is required to keep it off painted or varnished woodwork.

Darkening Grout

Question: We have ceramic tile in our bathroom. The grout between the tile has become darkened. How can I make it appear white again?

Answer: Try wiping it with a strong laundry bleach containing chlorine.

Weather Turns Cool After Weekend Rain

Precipitation in Fox Cities Lighter Than Most of State

Unseasonably cool weather covered the Fox Cities and Wisconsin today after a weekend which saw much needed rain fall over most of the state.

The Fox Cities received only four-tenths of an inch of rain from Friday through Sunday, much less than many other areas. Madison had 4.17 inches, Eau Claire 2.49 inches and Milwaukee 2.08 inches. It was the first rain of much help to farmers since April 23.

The cold weather overnight brought frost to the cranberry marshes in central and northern Wisconsin. Spooner was the coldest spot, with a low of 31 degrees. Appleton had a low of 42, according to the weather station at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company. The high Sunday was 64 and the temperature at 11 o'clock this morning was 60, with the wind from the northeast at 14 miles an hour and the barometer at 30.34 inches.

Tornado Sighted

The Associated Press reported a tornado and severe thunderstorms lashed southern Wisconsin Saturday night.

Either the tornado, first sighted five miles south of Monroe Saturday evening, or high winds tipped over two small utility buildings on a farm near Monroe. Several trees and power lines also were knocked down.

The weather bureau in Milwaukee reported that the tornado broke up and was not considered dangerous at the time.

Lightning strikes in Milwaukee were blamed for two fires which caused $735 damage to private homes.

Early Forecast

The early forecast calls for a chance of a few brief showers in the northwest portion tonight or Tuesday. It will be a little warmer in the northwest today and tonight and warmer over the entire state Tuesday. The low tonight will be from 42 to 50. The outlook for Wednesday is for showers and warmer.

The 5-day forecast predicts temperatures will average two to four degrees below normal in the Lake Superior region to slightly above normal in southern Wisconsin. The normal high is in the 60s in the north to the 70s in the south. The normal low is in the 40s in the north and 50s south. It will be warmer Tuesday and Wednesday and cooler again Thursday. It will begin to warm again in southern sections late in the week. Rain will average from .5 to .75 of an inch mainly on Wednesday and Saturday.

Graham Draws Half Million To Crusade

San Francisco — Evangelist Billy Graham's crusade, which began here April 27, has exceeded the half million mark in attendance.

Counting Sunday's crowd of 12,000 in the 16,500 seat Cow Palace, 505,600 had attended the services.

Graham rested today.

He told his audience yesterday that "God is merciful and God loves you, but some day He will sit in judgment over you."

Judgment, he said, is as certain as death, and the Bible speaks of not just one judgment but a series of them.

"You can't buy your way into heaven," he warned. "You enter through your faith in Christ, which is a gift of God."

At the end of his sermon 434 persons went forward in "dedications for Christ," bringing the total to 17,935.

Later Graham spoke at a rally at the Third Baptist church sponsored by several of the area's Negro congregations. He told the overflow

Most Solons Would Like to See Tax Cut

But Some Obstacles Must Be Surmounted Before It Can Happen

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Most members of congress would like to see a tax cut made. But certain legislative and political obstacles will have to be surmounted before this can happen.

Lawrence

The Democrats, for the most part, are willing to go along with the administration's request that no "general tax cut" be tacked on to the bill that has to be passed by June 30. This is the measure that would continue the existing rates on corporate incomes and on the sale of articles on which excise taxes are imposed. But action on this bill doesn't preclude another battle on tax legislation later in the session. Nor is the passage before June 30 of the pending bill without some amendments absolutely sure yet.

The big argument that will be made against all amendments is that since the senate finance committee will not have approved any cuts, the Senate as a whole should not try to write a tax bill on the floor. It will be insisted that, just as in the case of broad labor legislation recently, a bill that hasn't been studied by the committee in charge should go back to it for hearings and further examination, and hence amendments on the floor should be tabled.

Heat Will Be On But between June 30 and the middle of August when congress is expected to adjourn, the heat will be on to do something on the tax problem. The administration has expressed a deep interest in legislation to help small business men. The pressure for reduction of excise taxes will be renewed no matter what tax bill comes up for debate. If the business situation shows little improvement, members of congress will manifest considerable interest in tax legislation during July. Just how, it is being asked, was the administration able to ward off any opposition by the Democratic leaders of the senate and house to the proposal that there be no change in existing tax rates on excises and corporations, and no tax cut in the other categories? Why did the Democrats go along with the administration's plan?

The answer is that once the line is broken and a concession is made, for instance, in one article on the list, the demand for similar treatment would come from all other groups. The congressmen from Massachusetts, for instance, may not have as many voters in the automobile category as the congressmen from Michigan, but the Massachusetts representative does have them in the plants that manufacture other articles on which a reduction in excise taxes is being urged as a stimulus to employment. So finally it came down to the simple proposition that if the doors were opened to one concession on excise taxes, it would mean that there would have to be concessions granted all along the line.

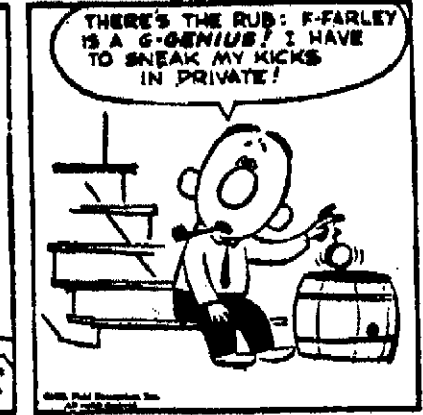

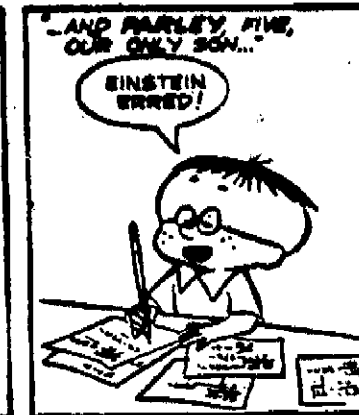

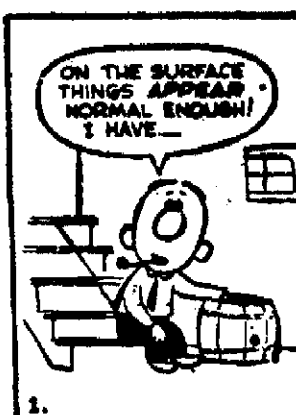

Point Was Made The point was made, too, in the conferences between the administration spokesmen and the leaders in congress that with a $3 billion deficit this fiscal year and a deficit of more than $8 billion anticipated for the next fiscal year, it would be dangerous further to curtail federal tax receipts.

But what becomes of the doctrine that tax reductions would add to purchasing power and that this would help to restore employment? The administration's answer is that a bigger deficit in the treasury would bring on an inflation and impair the dollar's purchasing power. Why, however, did the Democrats accept that argument inasmuch as since new deal days they have argued the other way? The reason is that the southern Democrats who are the leaders in congress today don't think like New Dealers and are concerned with a sound and stable economy.

From a political point of view, the northern Democrats — who will put up a fight for amendments to the tax bill that comes up for passage before June 30 — will continue to try to make political capital out of the administration's position and they will not be too much bothered by what their southern conservative brethren have or near Ostrander. He was taken to New London for medical attention.

For, politically speaking, the natural tactics of the Democrats in the north will be to say on the stump in the forthcoming congressional campaign that the Republicans are responsible for the "recession" and have failed to provide tax relief and more purchasing power. The Republicans will make their rebuttal with arguments about the dangers of runaway spending and inflation that could diminish purchasing power, especially for those persons living on fixed incomes. The truth is everybody knows the treasury can't stand any immediate cuts of substantial size in tax revenues, but the truth also is that sooner or later a start has to be made on an equitable revision of the tax structure. There is no reason why it shouldn't be begun in the current session of congress and the way paved for early action next year, especially if business improvement by that time has begun to be widely felt.

Brain Dependent on Blood Sugar, Dr. Molner Explains

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

Probably all of us were told years ago that we should eat our fish because "it is brain food." There are plenty of valid reasons for eating fish, but this isn't one of them.

Dr. Molner

What is "brain food"? It is the form of sugar which is carried through the body by the blood stream. It supplies energy (and heat) for the body, although, of course, there are "building materials" which also are carried by the blood and distributed. But the brain is dependent on sugar for its functioning.

Most of us have no problem with the quantity of blood sugar. It rises after a meal, then gradually falls before the next meal replenishes it. As a rule, when a meal is postponed, or during the long hours of the night, certain automatic regulating mechanisms in the body are at work to keep the blood sugar level from dropping too low. One is the liver, which is the great storehouse for simple starch from which the blood sugar is obtained. Obviously plain exercise is one of the things governing the supply. The brain doesn't use very much — the brain being such a marvelously efficient organ. But the muscles use large amounts, dependent on the amount of work being done. Insulin, from the pancreas, has a strong effect on the blood sugar. Too little insulin (as in diabetes) lets the sugar level rise. Too much insulin (as from a tumor in the pancreas) lowers the blood sugar level.

Influenced By Glands Finally, certain of the endocrine glands (pituitary, thyroid and adrenals) influence the blood sugar level. Let's stay away from diabetes, which we have discussed so much in the past. Instead, what happens when the blood sugar level declines?

There are many symptoms — weakness, sweating, hunger, listlessness, mental confusion, and in extreme cases even unconsciousness. This effect is more marked if the sugar level drops suddenly.

I would say that a great many people, especially those of the tense or nervous type, have experienced touches of some of these symptoms, although without any serious significance. For them, simply knowing what is taking place is sufficient. Being hungry, indeed, is a clear and automatic clue. They've burned up too much blood sugar and need to replenish it!

Head Pounds

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am 63. When I cough or bend over my head pounds very hard for a second or two, then eases up. I have a strong effect on the blood sugar. Too little insulin (as in diabetes) lets the sugar level rise. Too much insulin (as from a tumor in the pancreas) lowers the blood sugar level.

I cut out of your letter some you advise us to use on the of your various fears, since small cuts and nicks that the they don't apply. The trouble children are always getting? — Mrs. R.V.E."

Just soap and water and, if needed, a sterile bandage, or clean, freshly ironed bit of cloth, or as is so common these days, one of the little stickum bandages.

New Laws May Be Written on Jail System

Committee to Seek Answer to Problem Of Women Prisoners

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The possibility of new legislation governing sentencing of offenders to county jails and the handling of such prisoners has arisen here with the creation of an advisory committee of the state department of public welfare.

Sanger Powers, director of the state division of corrections, explained the committee will try to find a solution to the problem of confining short-term female prisoners who cannot now be accepted by the state prison for women under a new statute, but for whom relatively few counties have legally approved facilities. At the same time the committee will examine the operations of the famed Wisconsin "Huber law," so-called, to determine whether it can be employed more effectively in more jurisdictions.

St. Norbert College Announces 10-Year Improvement Plan

Program Will Require $4,200,000
To Meet Growing Enrollment

West De Pere — A 10-year program requiring approximately $4,200,000 to improve St. Norbert college facilities was announced today by the college administration and board of governors acting on recommendations of the Green Bay-De Pere Citizens committee of the college.

The program is based on more than a year's study of the college's growing community and regional responsibilities in the light of its increasing needs, today's announcement stated. As now planned, the development program would be divided into two phases.

Comprising the first phase as outlined by Clayton Fwing, citizens committee chairman, would be a new science building to replace the temporary structure in use since World War II, a student union, additions to the faculty salary and scholarship funds, and increased classroom space.

Second Phase
The second phase of the program would include additions to faculty funds as well as faculty housing, a field house, and the start of a development purchase fund and permanent scholarship endowment.

The first phase also includes a campaign now being held within the four Catholic parishes of De Pere for the relocation of St. Norbert High school in the present Nicolet High school building in West De Pere. This would release present high school facilities on the St. Norbert campus for college use.

The first phase of the 10-year plan would cover a 3-year period and would cost an estimated $1,858,000, including $258,000 for the high school relocation. The second phase, covering seven years, would cost approximately $2,350,000.

Hard Pressed
The Rev. D. M. Burke, O. Praem., college president, pointed out that in the past decade the college has been hard-pressed to keep up with its increasing enrollment despite $1,500,000 worth of improvements and additions to college facilities.

These included a men's dormitory, fine arts building and major renovations of the administration building and heating plant.

The figure also includes the beginning of a faculty fund, which has reached $260,000 through a Ford Foundation grant and other contributions inspired by the Ford grant. During the last decade the St. Norbert lay faculty has increased to a point where it now comprises more than half of the staff.

"It is apparent," Father Burke stated, "that the development program, which the board of governors and our citizens committee properly define as representing our method for continuing to meet our educational responsibilities to all of Northeastern Wisconsin, is nothing new but rather continues a program of progress which has already been vigorously and effectively begun."

Two Findings
The citizens committee, which initiated the program idea, is composed of 34 prominent Green Bay and De Pere business and professional men organized in 1956. Chairman, Fwing declared the 10-year program reflects the two main findings of the Citizens Committee.

First, he explained, the growing members of young men and women eligible for higher education and applying for college admission has already overcrowded present St. Norbert facilities.

Second, the gains in educational excellence and community service which St. Norbert is steadily making would stand jeopardized unless a broader base for adequate long-range financing is secured, particularly to assure adequate funds for faculty salaries and a continuing strong scholarship program. Fwing declared.

Fwing stated that latest statistics indicated that St. Norbert enrollment will increase from its present 1,000 students to at least 1,600 in the next decade.

He stressed that approximately 70 per cent of the present students are from 11 counties of Northeastern Wisconsin and that this percentage can be expected to remain about the same during the anticipated enrollment increase.

Telegraph Strike Off

Union, Company
Make Last-Minute Wage Agreement

Washington — A nationwide telegraph strike has been averted by agreement in principle on a new contract between Western union and the Commercial Telegraphers union.

The agreement still must be drawn up formally and ratified by the union. It calls for a 6-cent hourly wage increase, effective June 1, plus an additional five cents an hour effective June 1, plus an additional five cents an hour effective Sept. 1.

Workers involved now average $1.80 an hour. In addition, Western Union agreed to set up a fund, equivalent to a 3-cent an hour wage increase, for the correction of in-cometer cases and Dr. Harold equities.

F. L. Wilcox, Western Union vice president, announced the agreement late Saturday, a few hours before a midnight strike deadline.

The union on Thursday had reduced its wage demands from 18 to 16 cents an hour. The union gave up a demand to eliminate social security from consideration in completing company pensions. And in turn the company agreed to base pensions on an average of the basic rate of pay for the last five years of work; previously pensions had been based on average of the basic pay over 10 years.

The new contract is for two years, beginning yesterday. During the two weeks which locals have to ratify the contract operations will be under the old contract, Wilcox said.

In the marriage ceremony, the groom vows to care for his bride as long as they both shall live.

But most husbands today go beyond this pledge. Through life insurance a man can provide for his wife and children longer than he may live.

How much longer? That depends, of course, on the size of the policies in his life insurance program, and on the size of the family, among other things.

Many a husband has a plan that provides an income for his wife as long as she shall live.

Because a life insurance policy is a contract, its wording is cold, legal and formal. But no wife misses the tender message of devotion that lies between the lines.

Milkmen Start Drive For New Blood Donors

Seek 2,500 Volunteers to Guarantee Future Bloodmobile Visit Quotas

Neenah — A drive to enlist 2,500 new volunteer blood donors in the Twin Cities will get underway Tuesday as local dairies and milk delivery men will begin leaving special enrollment cards at each home they serve. This project marks the beginning of a long range program to bring the list of volunteers up to a total which will assure the meeting of local bloodmobile quotas more easily. Milkmen will ask their customers to sign the enrollment cards and return them. The signed cards will then be turned over to the Neenah-Menasha Red Cross blood bank program. Those who do not have home milk deliveries but who wish to volunteer may use the coupon printed elsewhere on this page or get in touch with Jerry Bump or Carl Snyder, donor recruitment chairman for Neenah and Menasha.

Health Checked — The two chairmen have asked that all persons interested in the program, even though they are not sure that they will be able to give blood. The medical history and physical condition of each donor is checked carefully at each bloodmobile visit, they said, and no person is asked to give blood if there is any reason to think it might be harmful to the donor. At the present time there are only about 1,400 registered donors in the Twin Cities, Bump and Snyder indicated. According to Red Cross statistics and the population of the cities, however, an estimated 12,000 residents are within the eligible age range of 18 to 60 years and have no disqualifying physical disability. The reason for the low registration, the men said, is that the recruitment effort has not kept pace with the growth of population.

Speed Boat Warning — Menasha — Anyone driving a speed boat over the six-mile-an-hour speed limit within city boundaries will be subject to arrest, Police Chief Peter Clark warned today. Clark said he had received complaints of boats going too fast and being noisy on water within city limits.

Guide for Future Given To St. Mary Graduates

3 Policies Passed on to 114 Seniors Sunday Night by Rev. William Rickert, Guest Speaker

Menasha — "Giving service to others, learning to wait for your rewards and living always in the presence of God are the policies you should use as a guide in future endeavors," St. Mary High school seniors were advised at commencement exercises Sunday night. Bearer of the advice was the Rev. William Rickert, pastor of the Spruce-Klondike Catholic church and former assistant pastor at St. Mary, who delivered the sermon at the thirtieth annual graduation exercises. The Rev. Fr. Rickert maintained the graduates would never be happy unless they did services for others. "You also must remember not to go looking for praise and honors when doing something noteworthy," he said. To be happy one must also center his life around God and to model his life after that of the Virgin Mary, the priest asserted.

Use Abilities — "God has given each of you certain talents and it is important that these abilities be used. Non-use would be disastrous," the Rev. Fr. Rickert declared. The graduates were urged to base their foundation for the future on the principles they have learned from the priests and sisters at St. Mary and from their own homes. Those who use their opportunities will be rewarded, the seniors were informed. Addressing the parents of the graduates, the Rev. Fr. Rickert said everything possible must be done to keep private education in the United States. "Unless education, industry and business have interdependence on each other and responsibility to each other to serve our nation, we might lose the precious liberty and freedom we now have," the speaker stated. The parents were told that unless private schools like St. Mary, which offers superior moral and intellectual training, continue to be of service to people all schools may eventually be placed under government supervision. The Rev. Joseph A. Becker, St. Mary pastor, conferred the diplomas while the Rev. Richard Shafer, assistant pastor, presented religion medals to Carol Dibelius and William Schultz.

Young People Must Find Goal, Pastor Urges

Rev. Rasmussen outlines rules in NHS Baccalaureate. Neenah — There is nothing more important for young people to do, a Neenah pastor declared Sunday evening, than for them to determine what they are going to make of their lives, how and where they are going to spend their talents, and to what end they are going to put the knowledge that they have received in school and will continue to receive. The Rev. Paul G. Rasmussen outlined three rules to guide young men and women in these decisions in the annual baccalaureate sermon to members of Neenah High school's class of 1958. The first rule is to properly evaluate one's self. "Recognize that you are a human being, have a soul, and are a moral creature," the minister advised. He told the former students to be true to the ideals that have been instilled in them at home, school and church, and to "put a high enough price on yourselves."

His second admonition was to "put a high enough price on your goal." It is ruinous to spend one's self only to find that the effort is not worth the prize, like the squirrel in a cage who works hard, only to go around and around. At times, the pastor said, circumstances will seem to block, and all good intentions. The third rule, then, is to give God the proper place in one's life. "Only with His help will you be able to rise above the circumstances which seem to be against you," Rev. Mr. Rasmussen said. "Many times you will be forced to reach beyond yourselves, for courage and help and strength: reach to God," he concluded.

Rural Firemen Fight Waxed Paper Blaze

Neenah — Both trucks of the joint Neenah and Menasha township fire department and the tank truck of the town of Vinland fought a spectacular blaze at the Schulz gravel pit on County trunk QQ this morning. A huge amount of waxed paper which had been dumped there caught fire about 10:30 this morning and sent dense clouds of smoke billowing into the air. The smoke was visible for several miles and the blaze covered a large area. Frequent trips for water were made to extinguish the blaze which threatened a nearby farm house. Dirt fill was being dumped onto the fire to help extinguish it and prevent its spread to nearby buildings. Firemen are expected to stay at the scene this afternoon to continue wetting down the paper to extinguish the blaze. The waxed paper covered about a half block and was about 25 to 30 feet deep in the gravel pit.

Play House Burns

Rockets' 6 Points Top Total Since Entering Class A Meet

Neenah — Neenah's highest point total since entering class A in 1953 was 22 points, a six years ago and Menasha's failure to score a point for the first time since 1953 characterized the state track meet Saturday as far as Twin City teams are concerned.

The Rockets scored six points a third by Jim Quade in the mile, a fifth by Wayne Rudolf in the 880 and a fifth by the medley relay team at Milwaukee while Menasha's relay team was disqualified and failed to score in class B at Ripon.

Neenah was moved into class A in 1953 and failed to qualify anyone for the state meet. In 1954, it picked up one point on a fifth by Lyle Olson in the mile. It had two in 1955 on Ruf Lee's fourth in the broad jump.

Score 3 Points

In 1954, the Rockets got three points on Paul Thomsen's third in the high jump and although they qualified several boys last year they were blanked in the scoring column. In 1952, its last year in class B, the Red and White gained eight points, highlighted by a second by Dick Jorgensen in the pole vault.

Menasha had several boys at the state meet in 1953 but failed to score. The next year the Jays had 17 points for tenth place in the hurdles, a fourth by Don Eberich in the 440 yards and a fifth by Bob Jorgensen in the high jump.

Although plagued by rain all three days, the tournament closed on schedule.

Veteran Subway hurler Bob Diener only gave Irene's four hits, but three came in the sixth inning when the Bays scored their two runs.

Gleason opened with a triple and stayed on third base as Diener fanned the next two hits. Jim Coel then doubled Gleason home and Howie Yenior, who played with the Hoerning's team here several years ago, cracked another two-bagger, sending home Coel with what proved to be the winning run.

Subway scored its lone tally in the fourth inning on a double by Don Gauthier, a wild pitch and Don Bodway's single.

Bob Drexler walked to open the last half of the seventh but he didn't get any farther than first base as the next three hitters popped out.

Winner Jerry Ledvina gave Subway five hits. He walked two and struck out five. Diener issued one walk and had 12 strikeouts. Subway committed one error and Irene's had none.

Flavor of Desserts, Sauces Is Heightened With Butter

Oshkosh—"It's better made with butter," says Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent referring to richly flavored desserts and sauces made with high quality butter. Wisconsin butter is divided into four grades according to its flavor, body, texture, color and saltiness.

Top grade is AA which has a fine pleasing flavor, spreads easily and has good color. Grade A does not have as delicate a flavor, but is of high quality. Grade B may contain odd but not distasteful flavors while grade C lacks some of the flavor found in top quality products. Grades B and C are good for cooking, says Miss Klusmeyer.

Butterfat found in butter is rich in vitamin A. One ounce a day gives almost one-fifth of the vitamin A needed in a day. Protect butter from light by aluminum foil if it is not packaged in a carton. Be sure to store it in tightly lidded containers to prevent it from picking up odors.

Other Uses

Plain butter is good with bland-flavored foods. A simple vegetable sauce is made by browning one teaspoon celery seed in one-half cup of melted butter. Cheese butter sauce is made with one-fourth cup butter, three tablespoons cheddar or Swiss cheese. Soften the butter and blend thoroughly with crumbled cheese. Spread on the meat as soon as it is removed from the broiler.

Butter adds flavor to cooked foods like rich pecan pie. To make the pie, cream together one-third cup butter, one-half cup sugar, one cup dark corn syrup, three beaten eggs and one teaspoon vanilla. Mix well and pour into an unbaked pie shell.

Cover the top with pecans. Bake at 425 degrees for 10 minutes then at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until the filling is set.

Golfers Try To Qualify for U. S. Open Meet

2,150 in Running For 144 Spots in National Tourney

By The Associated Press
The annual scramble — and a mad one it is — for the 144 qualifying spots in the U. S. Open golf championship was to take place at 28 courses scattered across the country today.

When all the returns of the 36-hole qualifiers are tabulated, about one out of 15 hopefuls will have made the big event which is scheduled for Tulsa, Okla., June 12-14.

A record entry of 2,150 golfers are in the running. The championship is among 162 players, but 17 are exempt because of their past records and one already has qualified. So that leaves just 144 spots up for grabs.

Fires 147

Ted Makalema of Honolulu fired a 72-75-147 last Monday in winning the Hawaiian section against 14 opponents.

The days of all the former champions sitting back and qualifying automatically are gone, and as of last year, only the last five victors get in without going through the preliminary round.

That group includes Dick Mayer, the defending champion; Cary Middlecoff, Jack Fleck, Ed Furgol and Ben Hogan.

The previous year's 10 low scorers (excluding the exempt ex-champs) also get a free ticket into the tournament. That list includes Julius Boros, Jimmy DeMaret, Walter Burkemo, Ken Venturi, Fred Hawkins, Sam Snead, Roberto De Vicenzo, Chick Harbert, Billy Maxwell and Billy Joe Patton.

Lionel Hebert, the PGA champion, and Hillman Robbins, the U.S. amateur titleholder, also are exempt.

Daniel Fires 73 At Riverview; Barlament Hits 74

William A. Daniel, Jr., fired a 73 — including a red hot first nine of 32 — to take low gross honors in Memorial day golfing at the Riverview Country club.

Other low scorers were Bob Barlament, with 74; Bill McGraw, 76; and F. A. Meythaler, 78.

McGraw won the flag tournament by reaching the twentieth hole. Planting flags at the nineteenth were Barlament, Daniel, Rick Meythaler and Hayward Biggers.

Next were Al Zupke and Ken Craig, who reached the cup of the eighteenth hole.

Charles Dostal accounted for the longest drive on No. 1 — 290 yards. Bernie Heseltun was "closest" on No. 3 — only one-half inch from the cup.

John Green drove to within 3 feet of the cup on No. 8, to win that closeness prize. Stuart Koch took the "low putt" prize with 27 for 18 holes.

respective events in the preliminaries. Both of Jansen's final victories were by narrow margins.

Dashing from event to event, Jansen went only 5 feet, 7 inches in the high jump after hitting 6 feet, 1 inch earlier this season.

Jansen had qualified in all three events as a freshman last spring and placed third in the high hurdles.

Kimberly's other 1958 points were contributed by Joe Bolwerk who tied for third in the pole vault with Plymouth's Mark Meilahn with a jump of 10 feet, 8 inches.

Loker trailed Neenah's Jim Quade most of the way during the first three laps of the Class A mile run. The bespectacled AIS runner made his move at the start of the gun lap and won by about five yards over Green Bay West's Roger Neilson. Quade was about 10 yards further back. Neenah's Henry Quade, who started fast, ended out of the money.

Breaks Pinkerton's Record

The Rockets' other points were earned by the sprint medley team which finished fifth and by Wayne Rudolf who picked up a fifth in the half mile. None of the Terror competitors but Loker and Dennis Tank (who hit 11 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault) were in contention for places.

Seymour's Brian Marks finished fifth in the Class B mile. The race was won by Hartford's Jerry Smith in 4:28.5, breaking the old mark of 4:35.8 set by Waupaca's Tad Pinkerton in 1956. Pinkerton is now a Lawrence college track star.

One new record was set in Class A. Milwaukee East's sprint medley relay team won in 3:40.6, breaking the old record, set by Kenosha in 1957.

In the Class B meet, Elkhorn's Roger Van Scotter set a new record in the broad jump, with a leap of 22 feet, 9 1/2 inches, tied the 100-yard dash mark with a clocking of :10.1 seconds and ran the anchor leg of the winning 880-yard relay team which set a new standard of 1:32.7. A Class B mark also fell in the sprint medley which Port Washington copped in 3:43.9.

LA Votes Tuesday on Chavez Ravine Issue

Several Thousand Fans Welcome Dodgers Home

Los Angeles — The hottest issue here in Tuesday's California primary election is proposition B. That's B as in baseball.

The issue is: Shall the Dodgers get 300, weed-grown acres of city-owned land in Chavez ravine in which to build a baseball stadium?

the Pirates were at bat in the seventh.

Then lights were turned on at the start of the eighth inning, but the game was called just after Warren Spahn, dean of the Braves' pitching staff, battled for Johnson and grounded out to first base. Although the game was called a 7-inning contest, Spahn's time at bat counted against his batting average.

The victory was Friend's eighth against three losses. Conley suffered his third defeat without a victory.

Don Mulzer Hurls BABA Victory For Braves

Waupaca — The Weyauwega Braves punched out 15 hits in a campaign that led to a 6-3 win over Waupaca here Sunday afternoon in the weekend's only game in the Southern division of the Badger Amateur Baseball association.

Winning pitcher Don Mulzer, had a no-hitter going into the sixth inning, but his control faded as he gave up eight walks.

Weyauwega made the best of losing pitcher Bob Hansen's only walk in the second inning. Lonnie Knoke was issued a free trip to first to force in Louie Knoke, who singled.

Mulzer doubled in Lonnie Knoke and Harvey Borchardt, who both singled, in the third inning. Four singles gave the Braves three more in the fifth when Tom Radtke singled in Roger Wilke, and Borchardt singled in Leroy Purchatzke and Radtke.

Waupaca got one in the bottom of the sixth as Riske, who walked scored on a single by Nalhar. The Lakeman scored their final two runs in the ninth when Stan Grove, who doubled, scored on a passed ball and Hansen singled in George Polly.

Sanders' 18-hole scores were 69-68-70-68, for a 13-under par total for the 72 holes. It was the first tourney victory for Sanders.

Dow Finsterwald finished one stroke back.

blasted a homer — his tenth of the year — over the right field fence. The Dav-Sox added one in the fifth on Wasdell's sacrifice fly.

The Foxes cut their deficit to 4-2 in the sixth on an infield hit by Pascual, a walk to Van Dyke and two infield outs. Davenport scored two in the sixth on doubles by Lynn and Chuck Lindstrom and a single.

The Foxes' bid to pull the game out in the seventh didn't start until two men were retired. Then, Dantoni and Taylor singled. Pascual doubled to left, counting Dantoni. Van Dyke singled to center, scoring Taylor and sending Pascual to third. A wild pitch scored Pascual and sent Van Dyke to second.

Lefty Joe Hoerner replaced Wasdell. He walked pinch batter Julian Castro. Rene Nodarse, who had pitched well in relief in the first game, came up as a pinch batter and singled hotly to left. The ball got out there so fast that the tying run was unable to score, and the bases were loaded. Valde-spino sent Lynn to deep center to pull in his game-ending fly ball.

Loes claimed he tagged Ken Aspromonte of Washington on a run-down play at home and when Napp dissented, Loes tossed his glove, cap and the ball down on the ground. other. Not a Cub reached second base.

A 20-m.p.h. wind blowing toward the plate, Williams had the Cubs eating out of his hand, hurling only 94 pitches—low for a Dodger in a 9-inning game this season.

Williams, who works without a windup like Yankee Don Larsen, said afterwards: "I believe the wind really helped me. I'm mainly a fast ball pitcher and with that wind to my back the ball was really sailing. Nervous? No, not until the eighth, anyway. When I have trouble, nine times out of 10 it comes in the eighth. That is what I got to thinking about after walking Paul Smith (a pinch hitter) with one out in that inning.

"I worked extra careful on Chuck Tanner (another pinch hitter) and I felt much better when he grounded into a double play to end the inning.

"But the best play of the day came when Don (shortstop Zimmer) tossed me that relay at first base on the double play to end the game."

Boy Breaks 250 Straight Targets to Win Skeet Title

Louisville, Ky. —(AP) A 12-year-old Roselle, Ill., boy won the all-gauge title in the Kentucky open bluegrass skeet championships Sunday by smashing 250 straight clay targets.

Then he slipped away to a swimming pool while his father, Al, whom he eliminated on the way to the title, accepted congratulations.

Bobby Shuley, a sixth-grader who has been shooting at clay birds for three years, wasn't flustered by his title. But his adult competitors, including some of the nation's top shooters, were astounded.

Most Irreplaceable Member of Braves Seems to be Mantilla

Pittsburgh —(AP) Who's the most irreplaceable member of the Milwaukee Braves?

At present, it looks like the honors goes to a second-stringer, Felix Mantilla, who stars at playing other Braves' positions.

Mantilla, the Braves' insurance man behind regular shortstop Johnny Logan, proved his versatility again in the 4-game series at Pittsburgh, replacing second baseman "Red" Schoendienst, who pulled a chest muscle.

Schoendienst, a dependable hitter, missed the entire series, but Mantilla worked smoothly at second base and contributed seven hits in 17 times at bat.

If he hadn't been filling in at second, Mantilla might well have been Wes Covington's replacement in left field after Wes' left leg was hurt by a pitched ball in the first inning. As it was, Andy Paiko went to left field Sunday.

Graceful Catches

Mantilla has been a defensive replacement for the limping Covington in a few games this season, and he has come up with some graceful running catches.

He also played one game for third baseman Eddie Mathews this season, and he took a turn last season in center field when the Braves' injury situation resembled an epidemic.

Manager Fred Haney is glad to have Mantilla around at a time when injuries again are a major consideration in mapping strategy.

Haney was puzzling Sunday about patching up a team for Tuesday night's game against the Giants at San Francisco.

The Braves' manager didn't know just when Covington and Schoendienst could return to action, and he was concerned about his two first basemen, Frank Torre and Joe Adcock.

Adcock, who played Sunday, has been troubled with a sore back this spring.

Torre is suffering from a

Just by driving you can restore power by getting your engine Keotane-Clean.

It's fun to drive a clean engine with plenty of reserve power . . . makes you feel like the "king of the road" with confidence and safety.

It's Easy! All You Do Is Just Drive With Keotane To

Drive Your Engine Clean

Power steering, power brakes, air conditioners cut down horsepower. You can get 14.6% more horsepower output when you drive an engine that's Keotane-Clean:

DO you have any idea how much of your car's 200+ h.p. it takes just to run your air conditioner? Engineers say that keeping yourself cool under the collar while driving can eat up nearly 14 horsepower.

Power steering and power brakes eat up another 4 h.p. Besides that, on a hot summer day you lose about 11 more horsepower just because the air itself is lighter. Add all these losses together and you'll find yourself shy about 29 horses!

Is it any wonder, then, that your car seems sluggish when the mercury is up around the 100° mark and the air conditioner is going full blast?

Keotane can help you get these lost horses back. Tests prove a Keotane-Clean engine gives you an average of 14.6% more h.p. output.

You get better mileage, too. Prove it to yourself with a free Skelly Mileage Meter. Ask your Skellyman.

See chart for all the benefits you get just by driving with Skelly Supreme, the cleaning, cleaning gasoline.

Ken Boyer Is Currently NL's Hottest Hitter

Cards' 3rd Baseman Batting .431 for 2-Week Period

St. Louis—Ken Boyer has gone from a .165 problem hitter to the National League's hottest batter in just two weeks. And the reason is a mystery to the much-analyzed St. Louis Cardinal third baseman.

"I'm batting the same as I always have," Boyer said. "The hits are just dropping in now."

"It's a funny game," he said. "I wasn't funny to the San Francisco Giants, who watched Boyer's drives 'dropping in' the bleachers for three home runs in two days."

Pair of Homers—A .431 hitter the past two weeks, Boyer blasted a pair of 2-run homers to pace the Red Birds to a doubleheader sweep Memorial Day.

His twelfth-inning homer the next day gave the Cardinals a 10-9 victory. The Giants salvaged the fourth game yesterday and held Ken to one hit, but he was 8-for-18 in the series with eight runs batted in.

Boyer once was tagged the "reluctant dragon" by former Cardinal General Manager Frank Lane, impatient with Ken's defensive lapses and poor hitting in the first part of last season, after his big 1956 season.

I-Told-You-So—Now his rejuvenation puts General Manager Bing Devine in an I-told-you-so mood. Devine took Boyer off the trading block last November after Lane's departure. Bing classified him as all but untouchable.

Now Boyer has made his boss look good. When he found the ball on Sunday, May 18, he blasted a grand slam homer and four singles against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

In two weeks he has hiked his average 112 points to .277.

Akins, Martinez Meet Friday for Welterweight Title

By the Associated Press
Virgil Akins of St. Louis and Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J., will fight for the world welterweight title, vacated last fall by Carmen Basilio, in a 15-round match Friday at the St. Louis arena.

Although Akins, a heavy puncher, is favored, many boxing fans think the clever boxer from New Jersey can pile up enough points to win. Akins, 30, has a 47-17-1 record for 65 fights. Martinez has a 60-5 record for 65 starts.

St. Louis and a 150-mile area will be blacked out on television but the rest of the nation will see the scrap on NBC-TV. There also will be an NBC radio broadcast.

Steel Shares Lead Advances

Prices on Exchange At New 1958 High In Heavy Trading

New York — Steel shares were strong as the stock market penetrated new high ground for 1958 in fairly heavy trading early this afternoon.

Expectations that steel industry operations would show the sharpest rise of the year helped steel stocks make sizable gains.

Aircrafts, coppers and some rubbers also did well for a general advance. Rails and utilities were up modestly.

More stable political conditions in France aided market sentiment, and further help came from such items as a drop in the number of workers receiving jobless pay and a spring increase in gasoline sales.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks reached a new closing high for the year on Thursday and made further upward strides.

Gains of about two points were made by U.S. Steel, Goodyear and Douglas Aircraft.

Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet rose well over a point apiece.

Up better than a point were International Nickel, Gulf Oil and Du Pont.

About a point to the good were Goodrich, Anaconda, Kennecott, Union Carbide and Westinghouse Electric.

Many leading rails showed little change. Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Santa Fe were fractionally higher. American Telephone also was ahead a fraction.

U.S. government bonds declined.

Tunisia Appeals To UN Council

United Nations, N. Y. — Tunisia called on the U.N. Security Council today to take all appropriate steps to get French troops off Tunisian territory. These steps could include the use of force, if the council agreed this was necessary.

Tunisian Ambassador Mongi Slim told the 11-nation council the security of his country is threatened by the continued presence of 22,000 French troops in Tunisia. He charged incidents involving the French constitute clear aggression.

Slim said his government had exhausted all amicable means of getting the French to withdraw the troops, which are stationed there under a treaty of 1956.

County Seat Becomes
Center of Services
For Chain Visitors
Waupaca - Through nine months of the year Waupaca is a thriving industrial and commercial center and the seat of government for Waupaca county. But for the other three months it is unreservedly at the disposal of vacationers from the resort areas in the neighborhood.
The change starts to become apparent by the first of May. Activities along Main street pick up tempo, meetings start being held to plan for festivals and special attractions.
Just four miles west of the city lies the fabulous Chain o' Lakes with its numerous resorts and unparalleled natural playgrounds. Waupaca is the closest major community.
Linked to Chain
A good share of the city's summer activity and a lot of its off-season planning is closely linked with the business on the Chain.
The city is well provided to serve as the center of the vacationers' needs. It has well-stocked grocery and drug stores, laundries and dry cleaning establishments.
Churches of all denominations are located along the pleasant tree-lined streets.
Refreshing Retreats
There are eating places and establishments that afford cool refreshment on the hottest days. Several cinema places offer relief from the 1-eyed electronic monsters.
In addition to the facilities, Waupaca offers a friendly hospitality not marred by the garish hardness so often found in some resort areas.
Golfing Seagulls
Richmond, Va. — "Nobility has noticed the James river getting any saltier, but there must be a reason for the sudden appearance of seagulls here, more than 50 miles inland. More than 20 were spotted recently at an unlikely location—the third hole of a local golf course."

Unhooking Big Ones Is the Pleasant Task for trout fishermen in the fruitful waters of Crystal river. The stream is one of the finest trout waters in the Fox Cities area and affords an exciting addition to the natural and man-made facilities available in the fabulous Chain O' Lakes area just west of Waupaca.
